Many of the Ferrari single seaters and sports racers that won world championships were born of the imagination of Mauro Forghieri and designed by him. That was the case with the John Surtees 1964 158 F1 and the unbeatable Ts of the Lauda-Regazzoni era. The same can be said of the 250 P, the 330 P3 and P4, as well, naturally, as the 312 'PB', the unquestioned protagonists among the sports racing cars of the 1960s and 1970s. The life of the outstanding Mauro Forghieri is told in this book, in which noted stories, especially those that have remained unpublished for years, intertwine in an riveting narrative, supported by a wealth of absolutely unpublished illustrations, a large portion of which come from the publisher's archives. This book describes the practical measures that people can take to reduce their carbon footprints to combat global warming. "The Global Warming Combat Manual" describes the practical measures that can be taken within daily life to reduce carbon footprints. It also guides the reader on how to link their personal choices with the legal, political, economic, and technological changes that are being orchestrated on the world stage to deal with global warming. The emphasis throughout is on practical tips for how people in their everyday roles as citizens, homeowners, employees, commuters, tourists, sportsmen, business owners, or farmers can help combat global warming. This book gives readers the tools they need to calculate and put into action the most rational and ethical "green" choices.

Discussing both the personal and the technological and public-policy dimensions, this book suggests a whole range of existing, emerging, and speculative solutions for global warming: ranging from the easy (keeping your tyres properly inflated), through the necessary and hard (changing the ways you transport, house, and feed yourself for maximum energy
