Who's Too Old? Haynes Manuals N. America, Incorporated

"This pioneering study of United States direct investment in Japan will interest academic specialists, business managers, and government policymakers in America, Japan, and elsewhere. Drawing on rich historical materials from both sides of the Pacific, including corporate records and government documents never before made public, Mason examines the development of both Japanese policy towards foreign investment and the strategic responses of American corporations. This history is related in part through original case studies of Coca-Cola, Dow Chemical, Ford, General Motors, International Business Machines, Motorola, Otis Elevator, Texas Instruments, Western Electric, and Victor Talking Machine. The book seeks to explain why a little foreign direct investment has entered modern Japan. In contrast to the widely held view that emphasizes an alleged lack of effort on the part of foreign corporations, this study finds that Japanese restrictions merit greater attention. Many analysts of the modern Japanese political economy identify the Japanese government as the key actor in initiating such restrictions. Mason finds that the influence of Japanese business has often proved more potent than these analysts suggest. This book offers fresh insights into both the operation of the modern Japanese political economy and of its relations with the world economy."

This publication sets out and analyses the main foreign direct investment (FDI) trends in the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean. The 2017 edition shows that the region is at a difficult juncture. FDI inflows declined by 7.9% in 2016, to US$ 167.043 billion, representing a cumulative fall of 17.0% since the peak in 2011. The fall in commodity prices continues to affect investments in natural resources, sluggish economic growth in several countries has slowed the flow of market-seeking capital, and the global backdrop of technological sophistication and expansion of the digital economy has concentrated transnational investments in developed economies.

This is the story of a sixty-five year old woman who was living the good life in retirement with her husband of seven years. They spent every day crabbing, fishing, boating, clamming, beach-combing and the like when she found herself in the ranks of widowhood. She declared she got a sign when she asked God, "Now what do I do with the rest of my life?" Many times in recent years she thought about seeing the old cottage of her youth in Wisconsin. On her daily walk one day along the Russian River, she heard a voice from somewhere that said "go." Just the one word was enough to get her thoughts in motion to do just that. She could never read a map, but that never entered her head. She reasoned she knew how to get to Reno, Nevada from where she lived, and from there she could go northeast and find Elkhorn, Wisconsin and the cottage. So, gathering all the amenities she needed for camping (a sleeping bag, tent, a bag of brown rice, a bag of coffee, a one burner stove and her .38), she was determined to go.
