The unique art that graced military aircraft in World War II and the Korean War. Applied by amateurs or professional artists like Vargas, the art typically featured alluring women whose charms belied the deadly cargo the crew hoped to deliver to its targets. Hundreds of examples are shown in a combination of archival photos from the wars and current photos of artwork in museum collections.

In these new poems from Steve Orlen, the work speaks directly without tricks. There's no fragmentation, flarf, call of the elliptical, language tricks, movement and meaning through fancy associations and juxtapositions. There's not even a gesture toward adornment or the raised uplift of the lyric lamenting someone's dead grandmother or in celebration of bees. Yet they come with the force of a sledgehammer, powerfully felt, illuminating.

I checked my rearview mirror for the thousandth time and released a slow breath. Nothing behind me. Seemed I was the only one foolish enough to brave the weather in an attempt to escape. With each blur past my driver side, it meant a new destination, a new start, only to end the same old way. Who am I? Have you ever had to ask yourself that question? Does the answer change often? It does for me. Today, I'm Naomi Perks.
Funny. Just yesterday, I was Amber Perkins. A new town, a new name. Might seem strange to most, but it's become routine for me. Naomi Perks is young, vibrant, and sexy with "killer" moves, ready to snatch up the heart and money of the perfect man. But when she meets Ethan, a handsome jock with a good heart, she becomes conflicted in her desires. Has she finally met the one person who could change her life for the better?

But Naomi's not the only one on the fence. Ethan's new friend, Jillian, a beautiful, nerdy, computer geek trying to find herself, has possibly stolen his heart as well. Caught in between, Ethan discovers all these two women have to offer, and he's forced to choose between his heart and his head... One path may lead to his untimely demise.

Tarlin Saye's romantic thriller, full of love, passion, and blood, leaves readers with the question:

Is seduction convincing someone to follow you? Or making them believe it was their idea to begin with? Find the answer in Bloody Beautiful.

Mini Down Under traces the history of one of New Zealand's - and the world's - best-loved cars.
More versions of the Mini were available in New Zealand than anywhere else, and the launching of the iconic car in February 1960 was a larger-than-life event. In this lively and personal story, the author tracks the Mini's life in New Zealand, the connection between Kiwi racing driver Bruce McLaren and the birth of the Mini Cooper, the heady days of competition success in the Antipodes, the local assembly and marketing of the classic original car and the eventual development into the latest generation Mini for a new century.
