With 18 years of research on the Pontiac Grand Prix, Don Keefe takes the reader on a voyage that covers nearly a half century, from the earliest design sketches of the late 1950s, bringing the concept to market, all production figures to date, to the exciting Grand Prix of today. Not simply a rosy depiction of the Grand Prix's history, the author also deals frankly with the darkest days of the 1970s and 1980s, leading to its rebirth as an exciting front-drive sport coupe. Also covered are experimental, showcar, and specialty versions of the Grand Prix.

The Complete Book of Pontiac GTO gives you a year-by-year, model-by-model exploration of the world's first muscle car, all in full color photography, most of which has never been published. When Pontiac created the original muscle car—the GTO—it reshaped the automotive world like a four-inch piston going through a three-inch cylinder bore. Everything changed the moment John Zachery DeLorean and his crew of hot-rodding miscreants bolted a big engine into a smaller car and created the 1964 GTO. Make no mistake: DeLorean and his partners in crime were genuine outlaws. The GTO broke so many of General Motors' corporate rules that the people responsible should have been fired. And they would have been, except the car was a hit. The Complete Book of Pontiac GTO explores every iteration of the first car created specifically for baby boomers. With rare photography from the archives of Hot Rod and Motor Trend magazines, this book is the complete resource for fans of the world's first muscle car.

James Horton was capped out in a mediocre career with a hefty mortgage, two kids, unrelenting bills, and the limited prospect of earning more money. That's all there was and all there would be until his death. He knew it. He accepted it. But winning the lottery instantly erased a future full of worry. It afforded him the rare luxury of placing his head on a pillow at night enjoying the stress free thoughts of an economically liberated man. At least it should have. So why did he find himself in jail with less money than he's ever had? Why does he accuse the bank of stealing his money and how did his family life become so fragile? Set in the fall of 2008 amidst our country's worst economic crisis since the Great Depression, James didn't have much, had everything, and then had nothing. His haphazard journey explores our hard wired relationship with money and pushes one man to learn something about himself, something he never knew he had.
