In the 1720s and 1730s, Jean-Baptiste Oudry established himself as the preeminent painter in France of hunts, animals, still lifes, and landscapes.

Oudry 's Painted Menagerie focuses on a suite of eleven life-size portraits of exotic animals from the royal menagerie at Versailles, painted by Oudry between 1739 and 1752.

These paintings eventually found their way into the ducal collection in Schwerin, Germany. Among them is the magnificent portrait of Clara, an Indian rhinoceros who became a celebrity in mid-eighteenth-century Europe. Her portrait has been out of public view for more than a century, and it is presented here in its newly conserved state.

Allan From memes to resumes, fairy tales to researched arguments, in a striking full-color visual design, The Bedford Book of Genres invites students to unpack how genres work in order to experiment with their own compositions. After capturing the imagination of instructors and students in its successful first edition, the second edition incorporates extensive reviewer feedback to better teach students the rhetorical analysis skills they need to read and compose in any situation. To start the text, the Guide now includes a new Part One that lays out the book's key concepts--rhetorical situation, the elements of a genre, and multimodal composing--and a substantially revised

Part Two with examples arranged by academic, workplace, and public contexts. Throughout the text, Guided Readings provide opportunities to analyze the rhetorical situations and conventions of common public and academic genres, while Guided Process sections follow the decisions that five real students made as they worked in multiple genres and media. With a range of readings from short visual arguments to longer, more complex pieces, the Reader gives students a wealth of sources, models, and inspiration for their own compositions. Now available with Launchpad for The Bedford Book of Genres, the second edition offers a compelling digital option with a complete, interactive, assignable e-book. Earth Day BoD – Books on Demand January 6th was a day that will go down in infamy in American History. Who's Too Old?

Macmillan

This is the story of a sixty-five year old woman who was living the good life in retirement with her husband of seven years.

They spent every day crabbing, fishing, boating, clamming, beach-combing and the like when she found herself in the ranks of widowhood. She declared she got a sign when she asked God,

"Now what do I do with the rest of my life?" Many times in recent years she thought about seeing the old cottage of her youth in Wisconsin. On her daily walk one day along the Russian River, she heard a voice from somewhere that said "go." Just the one word was enough to get her thoughts in motion to do just that. She could never read a map, but that never entered her head. She reasoned she knew how to get to Reno, Nevada from where she lived, and from there she could go northeast and find Elkhorn, Wisconsin and the cottage. So, gathering all the amenities she needed for camping (a sleeping bag, tent, a bag of brown rice, a bag of coffee, a one burner stove and her .38), she was determined to go.
