Designed primarily for middle and junior management who deal with financial information without really understanding the content; students who are studying accounting as a non-specialist subject, for example on a business studies or engineering course. The book serves as a basic reference to be used throughout the course. It will also be particularly helpful in providing the basic grounding that is required before moving on to the more technical and in-depth study of the subject that may be required on some courses. Students who are embarking on a course of study to become a professional accountant will also find this book of major benefit. In addition to revisions through out, a new new chapter 'Making long-term investment decisions' covering capital investment decisions, extends and rounds out the final part of the book: using Financial Information to Manage a Business. The chapter deals with the investment appraisal process and covers the main investment appraisal techniques from the point of view of a non-specialist: payback periods, accounting rate of return and discounted cash flow methods are just some of the new topics covered. The focus will be on the level of understanding that a non-specialist requires in the work place as such, in keeping with the rest of the book, the chapter includes practical examples and exercises to enhance the reader's understanding. * Jargon free and easy to understand - no prior knowledge of the subject necessary * Focuses on the principles and use of accounting information * Review questions to assess progress at each stage and many fully worked exercises and examples

This book has been devised to enable students to attain knowledge and understanding in carrying out cash and credit transactions in accounting. It has been structured into a number of parts to enable students to undertake a particular topic to meet their specific needs. Whilst the book centres on the two main topics of Recording and Accounting for Cash and Credit Transactions, other topics, such as Introduction to double entry have been included, since competence is needed in the double entry system of book-keeping when undertaking accounting transactions. Each chapter in the book includes 'Student Activities' to enable students to assess their progress. Practice assessments have been devised to simulate the AAT Central Assessments and the ACCA Multi-choice assessments. These are designed for the student to gain a valuable indication as to their competence and readiness for undertaking either the AAT or ACCA assessments. Transaction Accounting for NVQ Level 2 is suitable for students studying the following courses: the Lead Body for Accounting NVQ Level 2, AAT Foundation NVQ Level 2, AAT Diploma in Accounting (for non-UK students), ACCA Accounting Technician Certificate and Edexcel Accounting at NVQ Level 2.
