In contemporary philosophy, substantive moral theories are typically classified as either consequentialist or deontological. Standard consequentialist theories insist, roughly, that agents must always act so as to produce the best available outcomes overall. Standard deontological theories, by contrast, maintain that there are some circumstances where one is permitted but not required to produce the best overall results, and still other circumstances in which one is positively forbidden to do so. Classical utilitarianism is the most familiar consequentialist view, but it is widely regarded as an inadequate account of morality. Although Professor Scheffler agrees with this assessment, he also believes that consequentialism seems initially plausible, and that there is a persistent air of paradox surrounding typical deontological views. In this book, therefore, he undertakes to reconsider the rejection of consequentialism. He argues that it is possible to provide a rationale for the view that agents need not always produce the best possible overall outcomes, and this motivates one departure from consequentialism; but he shows that it is surprisingly difficult to provide a satisfactory rationale for the view that there are times when agents must not produce the best possible overall outcomes. He goes on to argue for a hitherto neglected type of moral conception, according to which agents are always permitted, but not always required, to produce the best outcomes.

This book highlights the experiences of 14 high poverty communities in the rural South that accepted the invitation to be part of the Turning the Tide on Poverty (Tide) initiative. While history would suggest that impoverished places have limited capacity to make good things happen, Tide demonstrated otherwise. This volume is a testament to the positive work that can be realized when people from all walks of life are accorded the opportunity to discuss, deliberate, and act on strategies designed to improve the lives of rural people and places in the South. The message is clear: when local residents are provided a safe space to weigh in on local issues and asked to give respectful consideration to the views of others in their community, they create pathways for spurring positive changes. Simply put, civic engagement propels people to do more for their community and instills in them a sense of hope for what can be accomplished when local people work together. This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Community Development. A counterintelligence expert shows readers how to use trust to achieve anything in business and in life. Robin

Dreeke is a 28-year veteran of federal service, including the United States Naval Academy, United States Marine Corps. He served most recently as a senior agent in the FBI, with 20 years of experience. He was, until recently, the head of the Counterintelligence Behavioral Analysis Program, where his primary mission was to thwart the efforts of foreign spies, and to recruit American spies. His core approach in this mission was to inspire reasonable, well-founded trust among people who could provide valuable information. The Code of Trust is based on the system Dreeke devised, tested, and implemented during years of field work at the highest levels of national security. Applying his system first to himself, he rose up through

A country's education system plays a pivotal role in promoting economic growth and shared prosperity. Sri Lanka has enjoyed high school-attainment and enrollment rates for several decades. However, it still faces major challenges in the education sector, and these challenges undermine the country's inclusive growth goal and its ambition to become a competitive upper-middle-income country. The authors of Sri Lanka Education Sector Assessment: Achievements, Challenges, and Policy Options offer a thorough review of Sri Lanka's education sector—from early childhood education through higher education. With this book, they attempt to answer three questions:

- How is Sri Lanka's education system performing, especially with respect to participation rates, learning outcomes, and labor market outcomes?
- How can the country address the challenges at each stage of the education process, taking into account both country and international experience and also best practices?
- Which policy actions should Sri Lanka make a priority for the short and medium term?

The authors identify the most critical constraints on performance and present strategic priorities and policy options to address them. To attain inclusive growth and become globally competitive, Sri Lanka needs to embark on integrated reforms across all levels of education. These reforms must address both short-term skill shortages and long-term productivity. As Sri Lanka moves up the development ladder, the priorities of primary, secondary, and postsecondary education must be aligned to meet the increasingly complex education and skill requirements.

One of the most important forms of communication--intuition--is often overlooked or misunderstood by many people. In The Gift Within Us, author Mary Ann Bohrer explores the subject of intuition through interviews with scientists, paranormal researchers and 33 highly gifted intuitives from around the world who share their stories in individual profile chapters. Ultimately, we learn that every individual has access to this amazing divine wisdom simply by listening to our own inner voice. The process is simple, but the rewards are profound. According to research, people are increasingly identifying themselves as "spiritual but not religious," yet they don't know how to satisfy their yearning for greater spiritual connection and understanding. In this insightful and groundbreaking book, the author outlines six simple steps to accessing our own inner voice, so that each and every one of us can tap into this incredibly powerful form of communication and divine guidance, The Gift Within Us. About The Author Mary Ann Bohrer is a PR professional, communications specialist and intuition advocate who has interviewed some of the most gifted intuitives in the world. She has also interviewed top scientists, psi researchers, academicians and even a leading Catholic Archbishop regarding the topic of intuition, and shares her findings in The Gift Within Us that each and every one of us--regardless of religious affiliation, or whether they identify as religious at all--has access to this amazing and life-changing gift, simply by listening to our own inner voice. Editorial Reviews "In The Gift Within Us, Mary Ann really captures what it's like to be a psychic medium, and this book shows us how to listen to our own inner voice. This intelligent book will help many people appreciate and access the spiritual world." James Van Praagh, Spiritual medium and author of Talking to Heaven, Adventures of the Soul, and The Power of Love "This direct connection has always been available to all of us. Some receive this guidance through prayer, some through meditation, and others by simply listening to their inner voice. We all have access to divine wisdom - it's just a matter of knowing and trusting that we are loved and worthy of receiving that guidance." Archbishop Harry J. Flynn, former Archbishop Emeritus of the Archdiocese of St. Paul and Minneapolis "The evidence is in - intuition is real and it exists within all of us to various degrees. Mary Ann has written a powerful and engaging book that documents real life evidence for this precious gift, and underscores the benefits of listening to our own inner voice." Gary E. Schwartz, PhD, Professor of Psychology, Medicine, Neurology, Psychiatry and Surgery, University of Arizona and Author of Super Synchronicity, The Afterlife Experiments and The Sacred Promise "Most people have had one or more extraordinary intuitive or transcendent experiences, but we quickly learn not to talk about them. They feel strange and otherworldly, so we're concerned how others will react if we tell them our stories. This is why Mary Ann Bohrer's The Gift Within Us is such a gift. It helps to break the paradox of common experiences that no one wants to talk about, and it reminds us that these experiences are real, normal, and valuable. Highly recommended!" Dean Radin, PhD, Chief Scientist at the Institute of Noetic Sciences (IONS) and Author of The Conscious Universe, Supernormal and Real Magic Who Live in Shadow
