Built in almost four hundred thousand units between 1977 and 1985, the "wedge" Giulietta, also known as "116" by Alfa Romeo enthusiasts, is a car that's fondly remembered but hadn't yet had a title entirely dedicated to it. Matteo Licata, Italian car designer and automotive historian, finally tells the story of this unfairly underrated Alfa Romeo model.

Alfa Romeo 916 GTV and Spider traces the complete story of the Alfa Romeo GTV and Spider models produced between 1994 - 2005, commonly known to enthusiasts by the manufacturer's project code as the 916 series. The 916 models would always be controversial - they replaced the iconic Spider, the best-selling Alfa Romeo sports model of all time, and the brand-establishing Alfetta GTV. Sharing components and a platform with a humble Fiat hatchback, would the cars ever be considered 'real' Alfa Romeos? The cars were critically acclaimed, and, though they faced tough competition in the late 1990s from the likes of the Audi TT, they remained in production for over a decade. Topics covered include: Full history of the 916 series GTV and Spider models; Design, development and evolution of the models from 1994 - 2005; Participation of the GTV in motorsport; Model variations in depth through all three facelifts; Previously unpublished production figures, and chassis numbers for the desirable, limited-edition GTV Cup model. Comprehensively researched guide to the entire lifespan of the 916 series. Will appeal to Alfa Romeo and automotive enthusiasts. The history and design process are examined along with an in-depth guide to each of the model variants produced. The cars' current position in the classic car market is considered. Superbly illustrated with 240 colour photographs. Robert Foskett is a life-long Italian car enthusiast with a special interest in Alfa Romeo.

Alfa Romeo Automobile Quarterly
The partnership between Alfa Romeo and Nissan, called ARNA, was signed by the presidents of the respective brands, Takashi Ishihara and Ettore Massacesi, on October 9th, 1980, and was a first in continental Europe: the joint venture, as we would say nowadays, would guarantee 3,500 workplaces and a development-manufacturing merging, even if limited to just one model. Pity that, in Italy, the entire operation was truly mismanaged.
Motor industry commentators often cite the Alfa Romeo Arna as a perfect example of how not to combine the talents of two manufacturers. The world sat up and took notice when Alfa Romeo announced its forthcoming partnership with Nissan in October 1980 - the combination of the two had the potential to build something special. By 1986, Alfa Romeo's parent company, the Italian government-owned Istituto per la Ricostruzione Industriale was suffering from heavy losses, and IRI president Romano Prodi put Alfa Romeo up for sale, with Fiat ultimately emerging as the new owner of Alfa. Fiat's first decision was to cease Arna production owing to its poor reputation and poor sales and to terminate the unsuccessful Alfa Romeo Nissan alliance. Production ceased in 1987, with Fiat intending to strengthen the competitiveness of the Alfa Romeo 33 as Alfa's entry in that segment. By this time, Nissan had set up a European operation of its own at Nissan Motor Manufacturing UK in Sunderland, which became hugely successful.

The Alfa Romeo 105 series Spider is one of the most admired drop-head sports cars to come out of Italy. Launched in 1966, its radical new look prospective buyers gradually warmed to the model, enhancements were introduced including more powerful engines and higher-spec body and interior fittings. Despite its inauspicious start, production of this much-admired car lasted for twenty-seven years, finally stopping in 1993. Jim Talbott and Andrew Brown pay homage to the 105/115 series Alfa Spider. With over 330 photographs, many specially commissioned, this new book describes the Alfa Romeo company history including its philosophy of incorporating driver appeal into all of its products, resulting in some of the most desirable vehicles of their age; it details the evolution of the 105/115 series through four distinct body styles; lists the technical design specifications and every major version of the Spider and finally, discusses the issues and challenges of finding and owning a classic Spider. Alfa Romeo 156 Osprey Publishing (UK)

Zulieferer führen ein Schattendasein im Bewusstsein der Konsumenten. Dass das nicht zwangsläufig so sein muss, belegen prominente Beispiele. Zuvor völlig unbekannte Zulieferer haben es geschafft, durch geschicktes Branding der von ihnen gelieferten Ingredients einen Nachfragesog zu generieren. Und:

Endproduktherstellern wurde es in der Folge ermöglicht, durch das Branding ihrer Ingredients glaubhaft Qualität zu signalisieren. Die enormen Potenziale von Ingredient Branding erkennen immer mehr Unternehmen, ohne genau zu wissen, wie sie eine erfolgreiche Ingredient Branding-Strategie führen können. Die Frage nach den Erfolgsdeterminanten von Ingredient Branding-Strategien wird im vorliegenden Buch sowohl aus wissenschaftlicher als auch aus praktischer Perspektive eindrucksvoll und praxisnah beleuchtet. Die Mischung aus Erfahrungen von Unternehmens-und Agenturexperten sowie die neuesten wissenschaftlichen Erkenntnisse von führenden deutschen Marketing-Forschern machen dieses Buch besonders lesenswert."

Many people like the unique sports cars produced by Alfa Romeo. These special cars handle the road, sounds, accelerate, and look, hold an extraordinary character. If you are reading these lines, chances are you know what we're writing on. In this book, we gathered the stories of the exceptional cars that built Alfa Romeo's reputation; most of them from the 1960s-1980s production years. There are more models Alfa Romeo produced during the years that don't appear in this book; we chose the special ones. Some failed, some succeed, and some stayed at the designer's desk. The book is describing the models and their history and does not require any technical or mechanical knowledge.
