Federalism gives
the American
political system
additional complexity and dynamism. The number of
governments
involved in a wide
sweep of issues
creates many ways for people in politics to be heard. These processes are facilitated by a
media system that resembles
federalism by its own merging and
mingling of
national, state,

and local content
and audiences.
