Do you love American history? Do you enjoy learning about the US Presidents? If so, then this President Trivia book is for you. The Great Book of Crazy President Trivia is filled with many lesser-known facts about the American Presidents. It is filled with great stories of the US Presidents that you will not find in any US history books. This President Trivia book is going to let you see the Presidents of the past in a whole new light. Learn about their personal lives, the challenges they faced, and their great accomplishments. When you read this trivia book, you are going to learn not only about the Presidents of the US but about the history of the US as well. When we learn about the Presidents, most often we learn about a few of their accomplishments that they had while in office, however, this book is going to show you the good, the bad, and the ugly when it comes to the lives of these men. At the end of each chapter you will find trivia questions and answers that are going to allow you to learn even more about the men that have been in charge of The United States of America. You are going to learn how war not only challenged these men but how it affected who they were. You will see how great decisions were made as well as some that were not so great. In the end, you are going to find that these men were in fact just men who took on a huge responsibility. Some of them were successful some of them failed miserably but each of them with their own hands,

Most of us learn in school about the accomplishments of Martin Luther King Jr., Harriet Tubman, and George Washington Carver. But what is the name of the first self-made American woman millionaire? How about the name of the woman who refused to sit in the Jim Crow section of a train that was assigned to blacks in 1883? Or the name of the black man who invented the gas mask and three-signal stoplight? With a fascinating trivia book filled with two thousand multiple-choice educational and entertaining questions in four categories, Curtis Claytor invites others to test and increase their knowledge of black history and celebrate the achievements of not only well-known African Americans but also the lesser known. Black history enthusiasts will learn the answers to a variety of interesting questions like who scored 101 points in the first half of a high school basketball game, in what city the first black-owned television station was established, when the freaks come out according to the Whodini song, and Fred Sanford's middle initial. The Ultimate Black History Trivia Book shares two thousand questions in four categories that will help educate anyone interested in learning more about the achievements of African Americans.

"BrainList - All-American Trivia" is a game book where each question has multiple answers (a list). All of the questions are somehow related to the USA. Don't worry-this is not a history book-the questions range from name the signers of the Declaration of Independence to name the songs on the Grateful Dead album, "American Beauty." Each question is fact based and has at least four answers. The goal of each BrainList game is to challenge each player to have fun while using their mind. The game can be played by one person or with a group. There are several variations of game play. One of the best ways for a group to play is the "Around the Horn" model where each player takes a turn in providing an answer to the question. "BrainList - All American Trivia" contains 216 fun questions with over 3,900 answers. 216 questions is the number of unique combinations that can be generated when rolling three die (111-666). (Dice not included.) The majority of questions are easy enough that most people will be able to provide some of the answers, but you need to be smart and calm to provide all of the answers. "BrainList - All-American Trivia" is a great gift for trivia fans and for people who love their country.

The game will provide hours of fun for all participants!
