The content in the appendices should be "easily presented in print format" (APA, 2010, p. 39). Examples: lists of length (short lists belong in the paper itself) detailed descriptions (essential details should be in the paper itself) a list of articles that support data but are not referred to in the paper itself; demographic details for subpopulations studied by the paper; Placement of the Appendix in an APA Paper

If the work has one appendix, it should be labeled "APPENDIX." If a paper has two or more appendices, they should be labeled "APPENDIX A," "APPENDIX B," and so on. Label appendices in the order in which they are presented in the text. Each appendix should be referred to by its name in the body of the paper. Example:
