A Nation at Risk: The Imperative for Educational Reform (A Report to the Nation and the Secretary of Education) State University of New York Press

Taken from "The Talented Tenth" written by W. E. B. Du Bois: The Negro race, like all races, is going to be saved by its exceptional men. The problem of education, then, among Negroes must first of all deal with the Talented Tenth; it is the problem of developing the Best of this race that they may guide the Mass away from the contamination and death of the Worst, in their own and other races. Now the training of men is a difficult and intricate task. Its technique is a matter for educational experts, but its object is for the vision of seers. If we make money the object of man-training, we shall develop money-makers but not necessarily men; if we make technical skill the object of education, we may possess artisans but not, in nature, men. Men we shall have only as we make manhood the object of the work of the schools-intelligence, broad sympathy, knowledge of the world that was and is, and of the relation of men to it-this is the curriculum of that Higher Education which must underlie true life. On this foundation we may build bread winning, skill of hand and quickness of brain, with never a fear lest the child and man mistake the means of living for the object of life.

Somtow’s World Fantasy Award-winning “The Bird Catcher,” a restrained horror tale of a young boy’s friendship with Thailand’s most infamous human “monster,” to “Wizard World,” Galaxy Award winner Yang Ping’s story of high-tech gamers, this extraordinary anthology of 16 tales introduces English-speaking readers to some of the world’s best writers of sf, horror, fantasy, and metafiction. Contributors

VERDICT This literary window into the international world of imaginative fiction, the first in a new series, is sure to appeal to adventurous sf fans and readers of fiction in translation." —Library Journal "The great thing about Tidhar's collection is that it is full of such masterpieces. You do have to get used to having your mind warped as if by some powerful psychedelic. You'll definitely feel that way after Zoran Zivkovic and his Godot-like explorations. Or after Guy Hassan's thought experiment about the nature of mind and thought. But once you get used to the idea, you can settle in and enjoy the ride." —42SciFi-Fantasy.com, Randy Lazarus "These stories deserve to be heard!" —Frederik Pohl

Poetry. In Noel Sloboda's second book of poems, he delves beneath the surface of suburban life, weaving together ancient myths, childhood nightmares, and historical reveries. OUR RARER MONSTERS explores intersections between real and imagined geographies: a residential block where Grendel lives next door and Prospero is parked out in the street. These poems--and the accompanying linocuts by Marc Snyder--plumb the depths of memory to unearth roots that bind us to the literary, cultural, and mythological traditions of yesterday as we hurtle irresistibly through the twenty-first century. "Noel Sloboda's OUR RARER MONSTERS is an imaginative book full of wonder and charm."--Jeannine Hall Gailey "I kept coming back to Sloboda's poems and to Marc Snyder's exquisite linocuts included in this utterly winning book. Here is a poetry collection not to be missed for its audacity and verve."--Kristin Ong Muslim
