Care at home arranged by your local council isn't usually free. In order to arrange social care you need to first get a care needs assessment. After you've had the care needs assessment, and you've an agreed care and support plan, there will be a financial assessment, also known as a means test. This is where your local council will ask about your finances and income to work out how much you will contribute to your care.

Assessment Guide For Aged Care
Health assessment for people aged 75 years and older. A health assessment of an older person is an in-depth assessment of a patient aged 75 years and over. It provides a structured way of identifying health issues and conditions that are potentially preventable or amenable to interventions in order to improve health and/or quality of life.

Needs
Assessment
Explained |
Age UK

A financial assessment or means test works out if the council will pay towards your care. It looks at how much money you have. Generally, the council helps to pay for care costs if you have savings less than £23,250. It may be that you'll have to pay towards the cost of your care.

Aged Care
Guide

Getting a needs assessment If you think you, or someone you know, needs help to cope day-to-day, the first step is to get a needs assessment from your local council. You'll need to have this assessment before the council can recommend a service such as: equipment like a walking frame or personal

alarm
