The ESA offers two certification paths: board certification and associate certification. Board certified entomologists (BCEs) must pass two comprehensive exams and generally have completed entomology degrees at the graduate level. Associate certified entomologists (ACEs) must pass one comprehensive exam. (These entomologists tend to work in the pest control field.)

Certified Entomologist: How to study for the new ACE exam
ESA is currently working on a single resource which will become the official study guide for the new ACE exam. No release date is yet known*. In the meantime, read the content outline, study the resources you have, and maybe attend an ACE Prep Course. * This section of the post has been updated. The study guide which was originally expected to be ready by 2014 has been delayed.

ACE Certification Associate Certified Entomologist (ACE) is the future of professional pest management. ACE certification can lead to better visibility, opportunities, and jobs. In today's increasingly complex and highly-specialized economy, credentials are important.
