An award-winning
scientist offers his unorthodox approach
to childrearing:
"Parentology is
brilliant, jaw-
droppingly funny,
and full of
wisdom...bound to change your thinking about parenting and
its conventions" (Amy Chua, author of

Battle Hymn of the Tiger Mother). If
you're like many parents, you might ask family and
friends for advice
when faced with important choices
about how to raise
your kids. You might turn to parenting
books or simply rely on timeworn religious or cultural traditions. But when Dalton Conley, a dual-doctorate scientist
and full-blown nerd,
needed childrearing
advice, he turned to scientific research
to make the big decisions. In Parentology, Conley
hilariously reports
the results of those experiments, from bribing his kids to do math (since
studies show

conditional cash transfers improved educational and health outcomes for kids) to teaching them impulse control by giving them weird names (because evidence shows kids with unique names learn not to react when their peers tease them) to getting a vasectomy (because fewer kids in a family mean smarter kids). Conley encourages parents to draw on the latest data to rear children, if only because that level of engagement with kids will produce solid and happy ones. Ultimately these experiments are very loving, and the outcomes are redemptive—even when Conley's sassy kids show him the limits of his profession. Parentology teaches you everything you need to know about the latest literature on parenting—with lessons that go down easy. You'll be laughing and learning at the same time.
