each person will feel things

their own way. each person will hurt the only way they know how. will love... the only way they've been taught to love. not everyone will see things the way you do. feel things the way you do. and you can't force your beliefs on people either because that's not love. that's not having compassion for other people. we all have our own right to see the world with our own eyes, therefore, understanding is key. and I don't mean saying it, saying you understand someone without putting yourself in their shoes. without respecting their views. you have to really know yourself and your environment to understand why people are the way they are. you have to go through enough pain to keep your heart open. to be compassionate towards other people. understanding is key and not everyone will understand you and that's okay. but the point is, to remember how all of us are different and try to understand that not all of us are meant to be the same. and you should never believe you understand it all because believe me, there will always be something to learn. there will always be something that will take your breath away. something that will make you question everything--your own beliefs and your own way of thinking. people, things and places, like life, are always evolving and you must evolve with them... if you ever want a fair shot in accepting your flaws and the flaws of other people. and before I finish, I just want you to know... that the beauty of it all is this, the more you understand people the better you will understand yourself. from the known and to the depths of your soul... people will always shape you. all that you are is all you've experienced with them. and dont ever forget... that the people you love will always have a piece of your heart. they will always be with you... no matter what.

Something Broken Something

Beautiful Robert M.

Drake/Vintage Wild

This is something about self-love--. Something they don't teach in school. Something that's very hard to learn on your own. This is something about putting yourself first because it's okay to love yourself before anyone else.

This is something about doing what's best for you, no matter what people say, because only you know what you deserve.

This is something about being real, being real to who you are and accepting things as they come and change. This is something about your mistakes, about your flaws, and about how beautiful it is to get up and try again. This is something about being you, about using your voice when you're afraid. About building enough courage when you feel like standing up to something you don't believe in, something that's wrong. This is about you, and every day should be about you, and that's something you should always consider.

Beautiful and Damned

To all the people in toxic relationships. Know that there is always a way out. Know that your exit will begin with talking to someone. With getting the support from the people you love. Know that you are not alone.

That you are not trapped. And that you don't have to be afraid of what happens next. Know that everything passes. That everything goes on. That you don't deserve to be in that kind of relationship. Know that you don't deserve to be mistreated, taken for granted and or abused. Both mentally and physically. Know that there is always help. That there is always hope. That there is always a new day to start living. A new way of life yet to be lived. A new way to love yourself for who you are. To all the people in toxic relationships. Know your worth. Know that you don't always have to keep letting them in. That you don't always have to keep telling yourself they'll change. Know this and never forget it. There is always a way out. And there is always someone out there willing to guide and show you how you deserve better. How you deserve more. Know this. It is essential. Know this. You don't have to stay. There is always a way out. Something Broken. Something Beautiful. What I Say When I'm Not Saying A Damn Thing

Andrews McMeel Publishing

not all love is good love and not all energy is good energy. and just because they love you, doesn't give them the right to disrespect you... doesn't give them the right to belittle you. no one is doing you any favors and you definitely don't owe anyone anything. so if it doesn't feel like home then you have the right to leave. you don't have to stay if you don't want to and you don't have to pretend you're on good terms just to show face. people separate all the time. they break-up over anything--over nothing but let it be known, you don't have to take the verbal abuse. you don't have to put up with it... and you shouldn't worry about the consequences. I'd be more concern if you stayed if you didn't have the courage to do anything about it. so take this with you... take this as a sign and as a lesson. those who don't respect you will never respect you. no matter how much time you give them. no matter how many nights you pray for them to change. like I said, not all love is good love and not all energy is good energy but you should know the difference between who deserves your loyalty and who doesn't. between who deserves your time and who doesn't and know how to respond to it as well. only you know what type of love you deserve. only you remember that. this is the moon matrix.

Falling Toward the Moon Andrews McMeel Publishing

The first person who breaks your heart will always teach you the importance of love. 1. People come and go and only a handful of them are willing to stay. So it is best to give them your promises. 2. You have to go through pain every once in a while. That's how it works. Pain is inevitable. Pain is relative. Pain brings people closer together. So it is best to give the people you love your sorrow. They will make flowers out of them.

Believe it. And3. Somewhere down the line a revelation will hit you like a comet and when it does you will think of the first time you got your heart broken. And the second and maybe even the third. And you will finally realize the importance of it all. And you will thank them for the experiences. And you will finally bring down your walls and learn how to move on. How to forgive. How to properly heal. And you will do all of these marvelous things but also, you will never forget the way they once made you feel. You will never forget the slow burn that brokenness brings. And you will remind yourself of it every now and then... and you will do so to remember the importance of letting go and etc. To remember why you should never search for love in the same place you lost it. Why you should never search for love in the same place where it left you broken. That's the importance of love. Of going through it-to have it and cherish it... but also, to not fall victim to the same people and tragedies that made you feel even more alone. To not fall victim to all things that covered up the sun. Those lessons are valuable, therefore, it is best to learn as much as you can and love as much as you're willing to get hurt. Stay strong.

Star Theory Andrews McMeel Publishing From the authors of The New York Times bestsellers Empty Bottles Full of Stories and Falling Toward the Moon comes a brand-new collection of compelling poetry and prose. There's a harshness in the air; the season is changing its colors. The rain is chilled, icy to the touch, and the sky, filled with melancholy. Your search for warmth has brought you here; you starve for something profound. You require something that will resonate with your soul. Despite how cold, you're determined to grow. And with these words, you bloom, a winter rose. Oracle Andrews McMeel Publishing What are you hiding behind your smile? If those empty bottles that line the walls of your room could speak, what tales would they spill? So much of your truth is buried beneath the lies you tell yourself. There ' s a need to scream to the moon; there ' s this urge to go out into the darkness of the night to purge. There are so many stories living inside your soul, you just want the opportunity to tell them. And when you can ' t find the will to express what lives within your heart, these words will give you peace. These words will set you free. Gravity Andrews McMeel Publishing "And you will go on / searching for the best of you / and you will never find it, / but that is the point." This stunning collection of poems asks readers to keep on seeking - the journey is the destination. In this fifth installment from Robert M. Drake, the poet meditates on the subtle beauty of brokenness. Broken Flowers Andrews McMeel Publishing There are moments when the heart no longer wishes to feel because everything it's felt up until then has brought it nothing but anguish. In She Felt Like Feeling Nothing, r.h. Sin pursues themes of self-discovery and retrospection. With this book, the poet intends to create a safe space where women can rest their weary hearts and focus on themselves. Moon Theory Beautiful Chaos 2 Chaos is not pretty it is like feeling a hundred things, hearing a hundred voices, and somewhere in the riot we tend to lose ourselves and lose direction in our heads. ## Lately

These poems, taken from the last decade of Drake's work, trace the devolution of a society gone brilliantly mad.

The Skin Horse

Volume 2 of Robert M. Drake's entries. This book employs the comparative method to understand societal collapses to which environmental problems contribute to the common youth and society as a whole. In his writing, Robert M. Drake hauntingly describes the issues we are all facing today. We all are broken and broken is its own kind of beautiful.
