Student Unit Guides are perfect for revision. Each guide is written by an examiner and explains the unit requirements, summarises the relevant unit content and includes a series of specimen questions and answers. There are three sections to each guide: Introduction - includes advice on how to use the guide, an explanation of the skills being tested by the assessment objectives, an outline of the unit or module and, depending on the unit, suggestions for how to revise effectively and prepare for the examination questions. Content Guidance - provides an examiner's overview of the module's key terms and concepts and identifies opportunities to exhibit the skills required by the unit. It is designed to help students to structure their revision and make them aware of the concepts they need to understand the exam and how they might analyse and evaluate topics.

Question and Answers - sample questions and with graded answers which have been carefully written to reflect the style of the unit. All responses are accompanied by commentaries which highlight their respective strengths and weaknesses, giving students an insight into the mind of the examiner.

Nail your A2 EMPA. I have taught, marked and moderated A-level ISAs and EMPAs for AQA and from this written the only specific guide for this exam. With my knowledge of common mistakes and mark schemes I am sure that this is an effective and comprehensive guide to the hardest parts of the process - experimental design and statistics. Most students seem to get themselves in knots, mainly because their teachers don't really understand it. By reading and understanding the theory, following the worked examples and finally completing the exam style questions, you will be doing everything you can to get your best mark in the exam. As with all exams the same questions keep coming up. Make sure you know what they are AND how to answer them. What this book is: An educational resources reviewing the use of statistics and the three statistical tests you need to be familiar with for your EMPA. Exam style questions on experimental design with exemplar answers based on previous mark schemes. It clearly walks through when each statistical test is used, includes worked examples and then an exam style question with a following mark scheme based on previous past papers. It comprehensively and thoroughly sets you up for task 1 and 2 as well as section A of the written paper. It also gives some insight into the style of questions in section B. What it is not: Written based on having seen this coming year's exam. This is not cheating!

the family become a dominant strand of political discourse and policy development in the late twentieth century? Will the historical contradictions that have beset the relationship between the family and feminist aspirations continue through the new millennium? Is the 'new feminism' a resolution of these tensions or part of the 'anti-feminist backlash'? This study examines the continuing 'war over the family' in the USA and the UK in the context of major socio-economic and cultural changes that have fundamentally shifted the ground of traditional gender relations and redrawn the material and psychological conditions for family life in the next century.

The future of politics after the pandemic COVID-19 exposed the pre-existing conditions of the current global crisis. Many Western states failed to protect their populations, while others were able to suppress the virus only with sweeping social restrictions. In contrast, many Asian countries were able to make much more precise interventions. Everywhere, lockdown transformed everyday life, introducing an epidemiological view of society based on sensing, modeling, and filtering.

What lessons are to be learned? The Revenge of the Real envisions a new positive biopolitics that recognizes that governance is literally a matter of life and death. We are grappling with multiple interconnected dilemmas—climate change, pandemics, the tensions between the individual and society—all of which have to be addressed on a planetary scale. Even when separated, we are still enmeshed. Can the world govern itself differently? What models and philosophies are needed? Bratton argues that instead of thinking of biotechnologies as something imposed on society, we must see them as essential to a politics of infrastructure, knowledge, and direct intervention. In this way, we can build a society based on a new rationality of inclusion, care, and prevention.
