This is my fourth book on the auto industry, and I have written it because this business is complicated, sophisticated, and ever-changing. Automotive retail is changing slowly, and one of the main reasons for that are the franchise laws. I want to urge you to operate as though franchise laws don't exist to protect you. Carvana is not going anywhere and neither is Amazon. At some point they will join forces. Also, OEM's such as Tesla, Rivian, and many more are going to go directly to the consumer, bypassing the dealer network altogether. At the end of the day, awesome customer service, whether in sales, service, or parts, will keep your customers coming back for more. Poor service and a cumbersome sales experience will drive them elsewhere—Carvana, CarMax, Tesla, Jiffy Lube, Firestone, Good Year, Valvoline, NAPA Parts, Pep Boys, etc. COVID-19 is already having a profound effect on consumer behavior and the way in which we buy and service cars. I predict that there will be two types of dealers after this pandemic abates—the first will change their business operations, adopting frictionless digital and showroom retail; the second will hope that things go back to normal and that nothing needs to change.

Unfortunately, the second type of dealer will be out of business. It is ultimately your choice whether to accept change. Consumers will continue to purchase cars. The only question is: Will they will be buying from you?

"We are overstocked and that is our problem, but it can be good for you as prices have never been lower" says the nice man in the television ad. Or "It is Tax time and we have to get rid of 100 cars this week before the tax man comes." The perils of purchasing a car are discussed in this short narrative, which is dedicated to the American Auto Sales Industry. Cars should be labeled like cigarette packages as being harmful to your health. People fear the task of buying a car, much the same as giving a speech in public. It ranks with fear of Death. Yet like the lemming that continually march to the sea, people continually march to the lot and are the gluttons for the product. The ordeal is sometimes traumatic but never dull. The advertising, the sales gimmicks and chicanery of the auto business are reveled in this humorous anecdotal account of "Car Man." The fantasies and greed of the owners to the avarice of the sales managers are exposed to the naked eye. Reading is believing, times change, models change, years go by but car man's tactics remain constant. The inner life of the "Car Man" is exposed in a humorous tongue in cheek approach. The author attempts through personal knowledge to tell the public of the inner workings of the auto sales business. The life and times of "CAR MAN." His methods, his lifestyle, his basic motivations are laid bare to the public in this expose. Beginning with the history of the automobile and its influence on the lifestyles of the southwest in the early parts of the 20th century taking into account the daily boring grind of the auto salesperson to the final excitement of the closing. The endless cold and lonely hours out on the "LOT." Car man's environment. His social habits as well as his Sociopathy. Looking at the inner secrets of the auto dealership to include: "invoices" the most treasured artifact of the auto business. Documents that the CIA cannot see. Compared to this in-depth treatise the inner workings of the Masonic Lodge are general knowledge and mundane. Then taking the reader a step further so as to look at the futuristic marketing of "autofliers" the Buick or Oldsmobile of the future. Looking at artificially maintained atmospheres in biospheric domes. We will discover that in spite of adverse elements, CAR MAN will adapt and prevail.

USELESS! If you're like the many frustrated consumers worldwide that absolutely hate the idea of purchasing a vehicle, much less actually making it into a dealership only to be bombarded by an overly pushy salesman, then this information is for you. We have created this guide to offer you an alternative to getting taken to the cleaners each time you decide to change up the vehicle you're driving. Dealerships make profit on each and every vehicle they sell along with their other products such as extended service contracts, gap insurance and even financing! The word profit isn't necessarily a bad word but there is a such thing as "a fair profit."

How do you know if you're getting a "fair" deal or if you're one of the suckers that's getting screwed? The answer is simple,

EDUCATE YOURSELF! We have provided resources that offer a great place to start, but there's still more. You can find reviews online to help you make the decision of what type of vehicle to purchase, what to pay and how much you should get for your trade but that's not all you should know. So what else is there?

How about, what is the fair price to pay for an extended warranty, how much is GAP (Guaranteed Asset Protection/ Guaranteed Auto Protection) insurance really worth? What about the interest rate that the dealership informs you that you qualify for on this purchase? These are all questions that will be addressed in the following pages and through out my other guides. If you or a loved one is in the market for a used car, this straightforward and often amusing guide offers everything you need to avoid common scams, make a confident buying decision, and ultimately purchase a great vehicle at a fair price. Relaying lessons learned over 43 years in the car business, Bob Bruckert pulls back the curtain on an intimidating world as he walks you through every step of the purchasing process. From determining the right vehicle for your needs to signing the final paperwork, it's all here and presented in a relatable and easy-to-understand format. Above all else, you'll learn that while times may change, the RULES of the car business never do. This book explains those rules, leveling the playing field for a game in which the stakes are high and the uninitiated are at a serious disadvantage. Whether you read it from cover-to-cover or use it as a reference throughout your buying journey, you'll find practical information on each of the following topics and more: The BEST place to shop for a used car (hint: it's not the dealer) Figuring out how much this car will REALLY cost BEFORE you buy the car Financing your car Buying vs. leasing Trade-ins Warranties and service contracts The final paperwork What to do if you bought a bad car At every step, you'll discover the (often completely legal) methods that are used to separate honest citizens from their hard-earned money, and how to avoid them. From extremely high offers on trade-ins to "working a customer on payments," there are as many ways to take advantage of an uninformed car buyer as there are types of car to buy. But in the end, the RULES never change. Once you understand them, you need only venture out with a smile on your face, your eyes wide open, and one hand firmly on your wallet. Here's to you, and a good deal on the right car!
