This book provides an overview of the ACCESS program, a mental health program that has been developed and tested as an efficacious treatment for college students with ADHD. This program is at the cutting edge of clinical research, incorporating treatment strategies that allow for dissemination in real world settings in order to effectively assist college students experiencing difficulties in their academic, personal, social, and emotional functioning. As cognitive behavioral approaches have proved to be the most successful psychological treatments to date, the techniques in this volume follow that model in a detailed and nuanced fashion. The authors provide a week by week breakdown of the program, supplemented by handouts and worksheets designed to facilitate better understanding of the areas targeted by the program. Filling a notable gap in research addressing the ADHD college student population, CBT for College Students with ADHD is a crucial resource for campus mental health practitioners as well as a broad range of clinicians dealing with emerging adults.

"Irene Taviss Thomson gives us a nuanced portrait of American social politics that helps explain both why we are drawn to the idea of a 'culture war' and why that misrepresents what is actually going on." ---Rhys H. Williams, Professor and Chair, Department of Sociology, Loyola University Chicago "An important work showing---beneath surface conflict---a deep consensus on a number of ideals by social elites." ---John H. Evans, Department of Sociology, University of California, San Diego The idea of a culture war, or wars, has existed in America since the 1960s---an underlying ideological schism in our country that is responsible for the polarizing debates on everything from the separation of church and state, to abortion, to gay marriage, to affirmative action. Irene Taviss Thomson explores this notion by analyzing hundreds of articles addressing hot-button issues over two decades from four magazines: National Review, Time, The New Republic, and The Nation, as well as a wide array of other writings and statements from a substantial number of public intellectuals. What Thomson finds might surprise you: based on her research, there is no single cultural divide or cultural source that can account for the positions that have been adopted. While issues such as religion, homosexuality, sexual conduct, and abortion have figured prominently in public discussion, in fact there is no single thread that unifies responses to each of these cultural dilemmas for any of the writers. Irene Taviss Thomson is Professor Emeritus of Sociology, having taught in the Department of Social Sciences and History at Fairleigh Dickinson University for more than 30 years. Previously, she taught in the Department of Sociology at Harvard University.

Accounting Principles 9th Edition Working Paper for SouthWestern Illinois College-Belleville Wiley

An expert communicator, Jack McAfghan writes the memoirs of his four-legged life as a mixed-breed Afghan Hound. From obedience and agility training to hospice work, Jack and his master learn their lessons side by side, inevitably applying what they have learned as their own lives unfold. It is a love story that can be used as an informal study guide for those who are in the process of training a dog, learning to love, or grieving over the loss of a friend. Jack presents with a wise, open and informed mind. He speaks firsthand about the psychological aspects of canine behavior as he opens the reader's mind to the possibilities that exist in life and after death. He reminds us that the way we think can change the course of our lives. This story will touch everyone who has ever loved. It matters not if they have four legs or two. Jack leads us to a higher love as he expands our tolerance and compassion for all of humanity. He extends himself to every creature of the earth, every human on the planet, every spirit in the universe and most of all, to the bona fide Master over all.

CHINA CEO: A Case Guide for Business Leaders in China Some Western business leaders are moving into China without anyclear knowledge of the many pitfalls they will encounter: the weakrule of law, forceful governmental intervention, a scarcity ofmanagerial talent, the likelihood of counterfeiting, the fast pacedbusiness environment and surprisingly aggressive local competitors. This book uses case studies to both illuminate and examine thesekey managerial challenges. Each case focuses on a specific topicand is complemented with commentaries from professors andexecutives who have extensive front-line experience in China. Thecases are the product of three-year research and are well-tested inMBA and executive courses. The authors' philosophy is that readers can learn mosteffectively through the experience of others captured in realcases! The book includes a broad range of companies, such asEmerson, Eli Lily, General Motors, Peugeot, Carrefour,Daimler-Chrysler, Picanol. It also includes more personalexperiences concerning the many challenges of expatriate-living inChina , some of whom have started their own businesses. The book provides concise but insightful analysis to helpreaders to get the most from the case studies. As a result, thisbook will help you get better prepared to face the variedchallenges you will find in China. These cases complement thematerial presented in a previous work, China CEO: Voices ofExperience from 20 International Business Leaders, also publishedby John Wiley & Sons.
