The 580EX II is normally triggered the instant the first shutter curtain opens. When Second-Curtain sync is selected the flash will be triggered just before the second shutter curtain closes. Note that given a fixed ISO setting, the longer your shutter speed, therefore the more effect that ambient light and any resulting preflash motion blur will have on the image.

Canon Speedlites Overview (430EX - 580EX - 580EX II)*

The 580EX II is a superb state-of-the art professional flash differing only in not having radio control from the $500 600EX II RT. The Canon 580EX II was Canon's top professional flash from 2007 until it was replaced by the 600EX-RT in 2012. It works perfectly with all Canon EOS cameras, both 35mm and digital.

The 580EX II can cope with both crop and full-frame sensor bodies and lenses, compensating for the differences in focal lengths. The flash also has a guide number of 100 with a reach to 190.3 feet when set to full power. This distance will obviously depend on the f-number being used.

capble flash that offers convenient refinements and improvements over Canon's previous top of the line 550EX flash. Canon's top-of-the-line Speedlite has been thoroughly revised.

Note: The Canon Speedlite 580EX Flash has been replaced by the Canon Speedlite 580EX II Flash. The Canon Speedlite 580EX Flash contains a superset of the features found in the Canon Speedlite 550EX E-TTL Flash in a smaller, lighter and more modern designed housing. Canon's Press Release contains lots of good information (recommended reading) about the new features in the 580EX, so I will focus primarily on my perception of this flash.
