Living Out the Spiritual Disciplines John Wiley & Sons Incorporated Award-winning African-American playwright August Wilson created a cultural chronicle of black America through such works as Ma Rainey's Black Bottom, Fences, Joe Turner's Come and Gone, The Piano Lesson, and Two Trains Running. The authentic ring of wit, anecdote, homily, and plaint proved that a self-educated Pittsburgh ghetto native can grow into a revered conduit for a century of black achievement. He forced readers and audiences to examine the despair generated by poverty and racism by exploring African-American heritage and experiences over the course of the twentieth century. This literary companion provides the reader with a source of basic data and analysis of characters, dates, events, allusions, staging strategies and themes from the work of one of America's finest playwrights. The text opens with an annotated chronology of Wilson's life and works, followed by his family tree. Each of the 166 encyclopedic entries that make up the body of the work combines insights from a variety of sources along with generous citations; each concludes with a selected bibliography on such relevant subjects as the blues, Malcolm X, irony, roosters, and Gothic mode. Charts elucidate the genealogies of Wilson's characters, the Charles, Hedley, and Maxson families, and account for weaknesses in Wilson's female characters. Two appendices complete the generously cross-referenced work: a timeline of events in Wilson's life and those of his characters, and a list of 40 topics for projects, composition, and oral analysis.

Is losing weight, looking better, wearing clothes that you want to wear and, more importantly, being healthier and feeling good about yourself a passion, or is it just a dream? Dreams require sleep, passion requires action. Once your dream becomes a passion you will wake up and act on it. For decades I was asleep and only dreaming of losing weight and keeping it off. Not that I didn't try everything in the way of diets, programs, and even pills, but after forty years of desperation and disappointment I found myself, emotionally speaking, on a deserted island. I had become a social castaway. I had given up! One day I woke up and discovered the root cause of my inability to maintain weight loss. When I opened my eyes, my dream became a passion, and my life changed forever! The misplaced power of my emotions was the lock and I found the key to open that lock to a future of freedom. Once I discovered the key, I lost 190 pounds without doctors, diets, pills or surgery and I was shocked at how easy waking up was. I developed my own strategy of how to use the nutritional data I had gathered over the years. In addition, I created a technique which made it all work for me and I want to help you do the same. Once I lost the weight, and at the age of 63, I went on a journey. I set out into the forest alone and, for fifteen days, wrote the last chapter of this book called, Beyond the Bridge. Through this daunting experience, I rediscovered myself and recovered much of what I had lost in my youth. More importantly, within this adventure, I learned that it is not merely about crossing a bridge of losing weight, but it is what one does beyond the bridge. I hope you will read and go into the forest with me to find inspiration and courage for a healthier and happier future.

Many people are longing to find the footprint of God in their daily lives. This beautiful daily companion is comprised of 365 selections of scripture, commentary, meditations, and daily exercises to help readers see how they can bring their entire life into a life with Immanuel - a God who is with his people. In Richard Foster's best-selling book, Celebration of Discipline, he explored the "classic disciplines," or central spiritual practices of the Christian faith. Foster showed that it is only by and through these practices that the true path to spiritual growth can be found. In A Year with God, the spiritual disciplines are presented in such a way that does not destroy the soul but enables the reader to enter into a transforming life with God. Through daily spiritual exercises and meditations, A Year with God explores eighteen spiritual disciplines. The inward disciplines of meditation, prayer, fasting, and study offer avenues of personal examination and change. The outward disciplines of simplicity, solitude, submission, and service help prepare one to make the world a better place. The corporate disciplines of confession, worship, guidance, and celebration bring one nearer to others and to God. Each discipline will be given twenty days of readings, beginning with scripture and followed by commentary, a meditation, and a spiritual exercise. Practicing these spiritual disciplines will help readers live intentionally, contributing to a more balanced spiritual life and a reformation of the inner self.
