The partitioning technique for solving secular equations is briefly reviewed. It is then reformulated in terms of an operator language in order to permit a discussion of the various methods of solving the Schrödinger equation. The total space is divided into two parts by means of a self-adjoint projection operator O .

Introducing the symbolic inverse $T = (1 - O)/(E - H)$, one can show that ...

In this study the viscosities of binary mixtures of methanol and water have been measured in the temperatures ranging from 15 to 45°C. The structural changes occurring as a consequence of molecular interactions in the solutions have been discussed in detail.

Nevertheless, it would be of interest to see whether the information obtained from viscosity studies can be corroborated with that

We consider a symmetrized fractional diffusion equation with a source and find different asymptotic solutions applying a method which is similar to the method of separation of variables. The method has a clear physical interpretation presenting the solution in a form of decomposition of the process of fractal Brownian motion and Lévy-type process.
