As the recent emission scandal from a major car manufacturer
demonstrated, fuel-consumption data from the car industry is highly questionable. No matter what the conditions, or how I drive, I can ' t achieve even 50% of the mileage my car is supposed to do.
But what about the products and equipment we buy for our heating and hot-water systems?

The advance in battery storage technology means the role it can play in developing a smarter energy system is becoming a commercial reality.

Lithium-ion batteries have fallen in price, so storage has become an increasingly attractive method of reducing energy bills and dependence on the National Grid.
