In this book, senior judges and academics at the forefront of transnational commercial law in Asia, Australia, Europe, the US, and elsewhere, reflect on the implications of anti-globalism and the COVID-19 pandemic on international commercial dispute resolution (ICDR). The chapters consider: (1) What types of cross-border commercial disputes will arise in the future and what resources will be needed to respond to them in a cost-effective, time-efficient, and equitable manner? (2) Is there still merit in a multilateral approach to transnational commercial law and ICDR, despite the closing of borders, the rise of protectionism, and the disruption of global supply chains? (3) What reforms and innovations should courts, arbitrators, and mediators contemplate when navigating the post-pandemic landscape? (4) Can the accelerated use of remote technology in ICDR (as prompted by the pandemic) be leveraged to enhance access to justice for all? With a focus on the current crisis in globalism, as well as the associated problems of ensuring justice and fairness in the resolution of cross-border commercial and investment-state disputes along the Belt-and-Road and elsewhere, the book will be an invaluable resource for academics, judges and practitioners alike.

The astonishing,
powerful debut by the winner of a 2016
Whiting Writers' Award
WHEREAS her birth
signaled the responsibility as mother to teach what it is to be Lakota
therein the question:
What did I know about being Lakota? Signaled panic, blood rush my embarrassment. What did I know of our
language but pieces?
Would I teach her to be pieces? Until a friend comforted,
Don't worry, you and
your daughter will learn together. Today
she stood sunlight on her shoulders lean and straight to share a song in Diné, her father's language. To sing she motions
simultaneously with her hands; I watch her
be in multiple musics.
-from "WHEREAS

confronts the coercive language of the United States government in
its responses,
treaties, and
apologies to Native American peoples and
tribes, and reflects
that language in its officiousness and duplicity back on its perpetrators. Through a virtuosic array of short lyrics, prose
poems, longer
narrative sequences,
resolutions, and
disclaimers, Layli Long Soldier has created a brilliantly innovative text to examine histories,
landscapes, her own
writing, and her
predicament inside
national affiliations.
"I am," she writes, "a citizen of the United States and an enrolled
member of the Oglala Sioux Tribe, meaning I am a citizen of the Oglala Lakota Nation—and in this dual citizenship I must work, I must eat, I must art, I must mother, I must friend, I must listen, I must observe, constantly I must live.” This strident, plaintive book introduces a major new voice in contemporary literature.
