Compensation Plan The importance of knowing and understanding business terminologies has become so unimportant today that hardly any people truly take the time to understand what they mean. This is probably caused by the misinformed idea that business terminologies are self-explanatory or that they are just a bunch of words that can be defined with common sense.	Representatives have the opportunity to earn a retail profit commission by selling the products they love to others who they know will benefit from using it. It is a common myth that people can only make money by recruiting others to become IRs of QNET.
