Knapp ' s CONTEMPORARY

AUDITING: REAL ISSUES AND

CASES, Eighth Edition, uses real-world cases to acquaint students with the work environment of auditors. It also helps them recognize the red flags that often accompany problem audits.

The eighth edition offers thirteen new cases, including exciting new cases that will familiarize students with the massive economic crisis that the U.S. and global economies have recently faceted: New Century Financial Corporation, Madoff Securities, and American International Group (AIG). In addition, five new cases have been added to the International Cases section, examining auditing challenges in Australia, China, India, Japan, Russia, South Africa, and several other countries. Globalization has been the most dramatic trend in the business world over the past few decades, and this section provides the most current, relevant information for faculty and students alike. The eighth edition fully integrates risk assessment standards recently adopted by the auditing community. Professors can use this casebook to supplement the first undergraduate auditing course, as a primary text for a second undergraduate auditing course, or a graduate-level auditing seminar. Selected cases in this text also are suitable for use in financial accounting courses and may be customized into a unique casebook at <http://www.cengage.com/custom/makeityours/knapp>. Community policing is a philosophy and organizational strategy that expands the traditional police mandate of fighting crime to include forming partnerships with citizenry that endorse mutual support and participation. The first textbook of its kind, Community Policing: A Contemporary Perspective delineates this progressive approach, combining the accrued wisdom and experience of its established authors with the latest research based insights to help students apply what is on the page to the world beyond. 'Spotlight on Community

Policing Practice' sections feature real-life community policing programs in various cities, and problem-solving case studies cover special topics. The text has been revised throughout to include the most current developments in the field such as how the current climate of suspicion associated with terrorism threats affects the trust so necessary for community policing, and how the newest technologies can be harnessed to facilitate police interactions with citizens. Additionally, the book now explores the fragmentation of authority and emphasizes the importance of partnerships among the numerous law enforcement agencies, government agencies, and private social service agencies. * Each chapter contains learning objectives, key terms, and discussion questions that encourage comprehension * Video and Internet links provide additional coverage of topics discussed throughout the text. * Includes a 'Ten Principles of Community Policing' addendum

A Common Body of Knowledge Springer Science & Business Media

For years accounting ethics has been viewed as an unimportant adjunct of academic and professional accounting. However, the economic scandals of the early twenty-first century have dramatically nullified this characterisation, with the ruination of investors in Enron, WorldCom, Waste Management, Aldelphia, Tyco and scores of other business concerns raising questions about the adequacy and relevance of academic research into accounting ethics, as well as the ethical nature of professional parties. Presenting important papers that reassess these theories, research studies and professional practices in the field of accounting ethics, this collection scrutinizes the body of knowledge that did not protect the investing public, and examines the current crisis in the creditability of financial reports.

Accounting Ethics: Empirical studies of accounting ethics LexisNexis

The 18th CIRP International Conference on Life Cycle Engineering (LCE) 2011 continues a long tradition of scientific meetings focusing on the exchange of industrial and academic knowledge and experiences in life cycle assessment, product development, sustainable manufacturing and end-of-life-management. The theme “Glocalized Solutions for Sustainability in Manufacturing” addresses the need for engineers to develop solutions which have the potential to address global challenges by providing products, services and processes taking into account local capabilities and constraints to achieve an economically, socially and environmentally sustainable society in a global perspective. Glocalized Solutions for Sustainability in Manufacturing do not only involve products or services that are changed for a local market by simple substitution or the omitting of functions. Products and services need to be addressed that ensure a high standard of living everywhere. Resources required for manufacturing and use of such products are limited and not evenly distributed in the world. Locally available resources, local capabilities as well as local constraints have to be drivers for product- and process innovations with respect to the entire life cycle. The 18th CIRP International Conference on Life Cycle Engineering (LCE) 2011 serves as a platform for the discussion of the resulting challenges and the collaborative development of new scientific ideas.
