Would you like to learn typical expressions and language spoken in France? Most language learners realize quickly the importance of finding ways to communicate with other people in their native tongue. It can be very frustrating when you cannot communicate with French people and trivial things can be a cause of major annoyance, especially when you cannot explain yourself using French. What can you do to improve this situation? The best way to improve your French is reading a book from which you can learn realistic French conversations. This book is designed to learn French conversations, it contains: 100 French short stories for beginners and intermediate students and allows new French speakers to hone their reading skills and learn typical expressions used in daily life. This book is focused on realistic dialogue and is an excellent source to study the language, expand your vocabulary and have fun while learning French! Each story comes with an introduction in French. The French conversation is followed by an English line to line translation, a key-vocabulary section, and short learning questions. The book is divided in three parts. The first 50 short stories are most suitable for beginners, each story is followed by simple learning questions. The next 30 short stories are for intermediate students and those who are interested in reading good short stories with entertaining content. The last 20 short stories tend to be longer and are not necessarily for learners who want to learn conversations, but for those who appreciate humorous stories in French and students who need to focus on grammar and the structure of the language. In that sense the book offers the best of both worlds, combining a conversational French learning book and an entertaining French short story book for intermediate learners. So look no further! Pick up your copy of Conversational French Dialogues and start learning French right now!

Arabic-English-Arabic Legal Translation provides a groundbreaking investigation of the issues found in legal translation between Arabic and English.

Drawing on a contrastive-comparative approach, it analyses parallel authentic legal documents in both Arabic and English to examine the features of legal discourse in both languages and uncover the different translation techniques used. In so doing, it addresses the following questions: What are the features of English and Arabic legal texts? What are the similarities and differences of English and Arabic legal texts? What are the difficult areas of legal translation between English and Arabic legal texts? What are the techniques for translating these difficult areas on the lexical and syntactic levels? Features include: A thorough description of the features of legal translation in both English and Arabic, drawing on empirical new research, corpus data analysis and strategic two-way comparisons between source texts and target texts Coverage of a broad range of topics including an outline of the chosen framework for data analysis, a historical survey of legal discourse developments in both Arabic and English and detailed analyses of legal literature at both the lexical and syntactic levels Attention to common areas of difficulty such as Shariah Law terms, archaic terms and model auxiliaries Many examples and excerpts from a wide selection of authentic legal documents, reinforced by practical discussion points, exercises and practice drills to encourage active engagement with the material and opportunities for hands-on learning. Wide-ranging, scholarly and thought-provoking, this will be a valuable resource for advanced undergraduates and postgraduates on Arabic, Translation Studies and Comparative Linguistics courses. It will also be essential reading for translation professionals and researchers working in the field. Assessing Speaking Simon and Schuster
