What is a landscape dinner? It's an invitation to use everyday food at mealtime to make colorful landscapes on your plate, encouraging creativity, laughter, and good feelings. In this book, Jenny introduces her two sons, Jeremy and Kyle, to landscape dinners when they are four and six. By coloring mashed potatoes blue, placing a back of Goldfish crackers within reach, and breaking apart heads of broccoli, she gave her boys the building blocks for a lake teeming with fish and surrounded by trees-and a good dinner afterward, too.

On the English Channel Island of Guernsey,

Detective Inspector Ed

Moretti and his new partner,

Liz Falla, investigate

vicious attacks on Epicure

Films. The international production company is shooting a movie based on

British bad-boy author

Gilbert Ensor's bestselling novel about an Italian aristocratic family at the end of the Second World War, using fortifications from the German occupation of Guernsey as locations, and the manor house belonging to the expatriate Vannonis.

When vandalism escalates into murder, Moretti must resist the attractions of ENSOR'S glamorous American wife, Sydney, consolidate his working relationship with Falla, and establish whether the murders on Guernsey go beyond the island. Why is the Marchesa Vannoni in Guernsey? What is the significance of the design that appears on the daggers used as murder weapons, as well as on the Vannoni family crest? And what role does the marchesas statuesque niece, Giulia, who runs the family business and is probably bisexual, really play?
