An elegant series of meditations at the closing of a long career. Many of the stories are moving enough to raise tears, but at the heart this is a book about wisdom and experience -- Nicholas Blincoe, DAILY TELEGRAPH [Do No Harm] simply tells the stories, with great tenderness, insight and self-doubt . . .

Do No Harm: Stories of Life, Death and Brain Surgery ...
Do No Harm collects some of Clara Stites's favorite stories from years past. In these quiet and beautifully crafted tales, she reintroduces beloved characters and places of New England's South Coast. Their stories bridge the beautiful and the bleak, as they face transitions in which the past must give way to the present-and to the future.

Henry Marsh, Do No Harm: Stories of Life, Death and Brain Surgery Through reading this book, I also realised that patients’ family members and loved ones bear the brunt of emotional agony. While individual faces tend to fade over time in the memory of doctors as they are inundated with new cases, to the patients’ closest kin, the damage is irreversible, and the emotional baggage remains forever.
