Historically, community health nursing has responded to the changing health care needs of the community and continues to meet those needs in a variety of diverse roles and settings. Community Health Nursing: Caring for the Public's Health, Second Edition reflects this response and is representative of what communities signify in the United States--a unified society made up of many different populations and unique health perspectives. This text provides an emphasis on population-based nursing directed toward health promotion and primary prevention in the community. It is both community-based and community-focused, reflecting the current dynamics of the health care system. The Second Edition contains new chapters on disaster nursing and community collaborations during emergencies. The chapters covering Family health, ethics, mental health, and pediatric nursing have all been significantly revised and updated.

Ethical and Legal Issues in Canadian Nursing - E-Book John Wiley & Sons Improving Nursing Documentation and

Reducing Risk Patricia A. Duclos-Miller, MSN, RN, NE-BC In the age of electronic health records (EHR) and value-based purchasing, accurate and complete nursing documentation is crucial. Proper documentation affects not only quality of care, but also facilities' costs and revenues. Redundant documentation wastes time and money, while inadequate documentation negatively affects Joint Commission core measures and can result in license suspensions or legal action against a healthcare facility--an expensive and often damaging outcome. Improving Nursing Documentation and Reducing Risk helps nurse managers create policies, processes, and ongoing auditing practices to ensure that complete and accurate documentation is implemented by their staff, without creating additional time burdens. Nurse managers, especially new nurse managers, do not clearly understand their legal accountability for poor or inadequate documentation created by nursing staff who report to them. While each state's nurse practice act (NPA) differs, every NPA addresses nursing liability for documentation; however, many nurse managers remain unaware of these and other regulations that hold them accountable for the documentation crafted by their nurses. This book helps nurse managers protect themselves and their staff by clearly explaining to their employees the impact of documentation practices on reimbursement, educating them on the consequences of failure to document, and training them on how to document properly. This book will help you: Work directly with your staff to ensure accurate documentation Train nurses during orientation Educate your staff on the consequences of inaccurate documentation Create steps to share with your staff that will improve documentation Ensure complete comprehension of documentation issues through sample forms, auditing tools, and case studies

Emerging Technologies for Nurses Lulu Press, Inc Providing holistic care to patients included care to the spirit, mind and body. Spiritual care needs to be administered and documented; however, in many instances, spiritual care and documentation of the care is greatly lacking. One barrier to the delivery of spiritual care by nurses is a lack of education regarding spiritual care. The purpose of this research project was to determine the influence of increased spiritual care education on nursing documentation of spiritual care in a long-term, acute-care hospital. The theoretical framework of the theory of human caring by Watson was chosen due to the relationship of the components of the spirit, mind, and body and how each one is interdependent on the other. Stoll's spiritual care assessment was incorporated into the education presentation. Knowles' theory of adult learning was used to deliver the information. The educational program was presented to a self-selected sample of 14 nurses and included pretest and posttest, PowerPoint presentation, and a review of the hospital's computerized documentation procedures. The nurses read two literature sources showed no change in the median scores of the pretest (90%) and posttest (90%). The chart audits completed before and after the education offering revealed no increase in the percentage of documentation of spiritual care. Implications for practice, research, and education were identified that will promote proper documentation of spiritual care to patients.
