Its literature is young; its poetry has emerged from sheer experimentation with language -- both in its form and its content. But the poetry of Acadie is more than experimentation: it is also a political expression, an insistence on the very existence of an imaginative country. For this anthology -- the first ever to be published in English -- Fred Cogswell and Jo-Anne Elder have selected poems by Herm é n é gilde Chiasson, Anne Cloutier, France Daigle, Ronald Despr é s, G é rald LeBlanc, Raymond Guy Leblanc, Dyane L é ger, Rom é o Savoie and more than twenty other poets to put together a collection of the most contemporary of Acadian poetry.
