If you're a healthcare provider or health coach, you CAN use motivational interviewing effectively, even when you have less than 10 minutes with a client. Have you fallen into the trap of trying to 'cover it all' with your client in a short amount of time, only to have it backfire as they stare blankly at you? The techniques and tips outlined in this book will give you the tools you need to most effectively use whatever time you have. This book is the most practical and usable MI reference you'll ever find. We've included many of the settings dietitians, nurses, diabetes educators and health coaches are likely to encounter. We've attempted to cover a wide range of disease states and lifecycle conditions, as well as a variety of client personalities. For each, we've included loads of counseling vignettes, with dialogue you may frequently hear from clients, as well as suggestions on how you might respond. For each vignette, we've included the total time, so you can see just how effective 5-7 minutes can be! Note: When you purchase this book, you also get access to 5 1-hour webinars, each focused on a specific challenge area for short-stint MI. You'll also hear actual dialogue between a client and professional, to give you more ideas about troubleshooting your use of MI in a short timeframe. Ready to set aside your "fixing" reflex and put your client in the driver's seat? Let's get started. Nutrition Therapy and Pathophysiology Packt Publishing Ltd

Neurodegenerative diseases, including Alzheimer's and Parkinson's disease, are a growing problem across the world's aging population. Oxidative stress in the brain plays a central role in a common pathophysiology of these diseases. This book presents scientific research on the potential of antioxidant therapy in the prevention and treatment of neurodegenerative disorders. This book outlines the roles of oxidative stress and diabetes mellitus in neurodegeneration, describes the molecular mechanisms of neurodegenerative disorders including the roles of environmental pollutants and inflammatory responses, and explores mitochondrial dysfunction. It then describes the protective abilities of antioxidants – including vitamin D, tocotrienol and coenzyme Q10 – against neurodegeneration. The book demonstrates the therapeutic potential of ketogenic diets, and highlights the roles of medicinal plants, phytopharmaceuticals, traditional medicines and food nutrients in neuroprotection. Key Features: Explains damage caused by numerous neurodegenerative disorders and the possible protection offered by antioxidants and functional foods. Describes molecular mechanisms of neurodegeneration by oxidative stress, advancing age, diabetes and mitochondrial dysfunctions. Demonstrates protection offered by nutraceuticals, antioxidants, botanical extracts and functional foods. The book contains twenty-three chapters divided into six sections written by leading researchers. This book is essential reading for health professionals, dietitians, food and nutrition scientists and anyone wanting to improve their knowledge of etiology of neurodegenerative diseases.

Healthcare professionals, including doctors, pharmacists and nurses, are often confronted with patients who use over-the-counter (OTC) herbal medicinal products and food supplements. While taking responsibility for one's own health and treatment options is encouraged, many patients use these products based on limited (and sometimes inaccurate) information from non-scientific sources, such as the popular press and internet. There is a clear need to offer balanced, well-informed advice to patients, yet a number of studies have shown that, generally, conventionally trained health practitioners consider their knowledge about herbal medicinal products and supplements to be weak. Phytopharmacy fills this knowledge gap, and is intended for use by the busy pharmacist, nurse, or doctor, as well as the 'expert patient' and students of pharmacy and herbal medicine. It presents clear, practical and concise monographs on over a hundred popular herbal medicines and plant-based food supplements. Information provided in each monograph includes:

- Indications
- Summary and appraisal of clinical and pre-clinical evidence
- Potential interactions
- Contraindications
- Possible adverse effects

An overview of the current regulatory framework is also outlined, notably the EU Traditional Herbal Medicinal Products Directive. This stipulates that only licensed products or registered traditional herbal medicinal products (THRs), which have assured quality and safety, can now legally be sold OTC. Monographs are included of most of the major herbal ingredients found in THRs, and also some plant-based food supplements, which while not strictly medicines, may also have the potential to exert a physiological effect.
