More often than not, well written riddles make good use of four linguistic devices: paradox, pun, poetic description and red herring. Sometimes more than one may be used in concert, for it often takes a pun to create a paradox, but, speaking generally, it is these four devices that make riddles become the brain teasers that we all enjoy.

What is a Paradox. A paradox is a statement that contradicts itself or a situation which seems to defy logic. That's a simple definition of paradox. Often premises can be proven false which rectifies the contradiction.

Sometimes they are just play on words, however, some paradoxes still don't have universally accepted resolutions.
