SUVs have taken over America's roads. Ad campaigns promote them as safer and "greener" than ordinary cars and easy to handle in bad weather. But very little about the SUV's image is accurate. They poorly protect occupants and inflict horrific damage in crashes, they guzzle gasoline, and they are hard to control. Keith Bradsher has been at the forefront in reporting the calamitous safety and environmental record of SUVs, including the notorious Ford-Firestone rollover controversy. In High and Mighty, he traces the checkered history of SUVs, showing how they came to be classified not as passenger cars but as light trucks, which are subject to less strict regulations on safety, gas mileage, and air pollution. He makes a powerful case that these vehicles are even worse than we suspect--for their occupants, for other motorists, for pedestrians and for the planet itself. In the tradition of Unsafe at Any Speed and Fast Food Nation, Bradsher's book is a damning exposé of an industry that puts us all at risk, whether we recognize it or not.

The Dangerous Rise of the SUV PublicAffairs

The F53 Motorhome Manual 2000: V10 Gas is a handy reference tool. The manual included by your motorhome/RV manufacturer does not include the F53 Ford Chassis reference manual. The obvious use for such a guide would be to obtain the part number for a relay that might power windshield wipers or turn signals. Ford suggests you read the guide from front to back. This may sound like a geeky thing to do, but having read this guide, I can assure you the small expenditure of time is well worth the knowledge you will gain over such a large investment. I was, for example, surprised to find out that the Ford F53 V10 will run in a "Fail Safe" mode when overheated. Half the cylinders will not fire but rather circulate air over the remaining cylinders to keep them cool!
