Fiber optic cabling is an effective method to overcome the distance and bandwidth limitations of UTP, and media converters are a commonly used to integrate copper network equipment and fiber. Since DC power cannot be conducted over fiber, PoE media converters are the solution to extend network distances via fiber to remote IP cameras.

RLH fiber optic links are commonly utilized in public and private networks to not only extend the reach of existing copper networks, but provide critical always-up network reliability. Fiber optic links can extend the network up to 36 miles over fiber optic cable without the need of repeaters. This keeps equipment count low and reliability high. If the network malfunctions due to environmental factors such as chemical reactivity or corrosion due to high moisture, electromagnetic or radio ...
