Fred Sch ä fer, the editors, “ Internal Combustion Engines Handbook: Basics, Components, Systems, and Perspectives ” Plunkett's Engineering & Research Industry Almanac 2007: Engineering & Research Industry Market Research, Statistics, Trends & Leading Companies Dundurn Drawing from Buddhist and yogic precepts, this practical guide offers tools for becoming a better, more compassionate communicator at home, at work, and in the world Have you ever tried to tell someone what you want only to feel misunderstood and frustrated? Or hesitated to ask for what you needed because you didn't want to burden the other person? Or been stuck in blame or anger that wouldn't go away? Judith and Ike Lasater, long-term students of yoga and Buddhism, experienced dilemmas like these, too. Even though they had studied the yoga principle of satya (truth) and the Buddhist precept of right speech, it was not until they began practicing Marshall Rosenberg's techniques of Nonviolent Communication (NVC) that they understood how to live satya and right speech. In What We Say Matters, Judith and Ike describe their journey through NVC and how speech becomes a spiritual practice based on giving and receiving with compassion—everywhere, all the time—whether at home, at work, or in the world. Their writing is deeply personal, punctuated by their recounts of trial and error, success and failure, laughter and challenge—even in writing this book! They guide you through an introduction to NVC with clear explanations, poignant examples, suggested exercises, and helpful resources. With practice, you'll learn new ways to:

- Extend empathy to yourself and others
- Distinguish between feelings and needs
- Make requests rather than demands
- Choose connection over conflict
- Create mutually satisfying outcomes

The E-type Jaguar captured the imagination of car enthusiasts the world over with its sleek, stunning looks and exhilarating performance. It was an instant sensation and a winner for Jaguar for 14 years. The E-type caused a stir when it was launched more than 40 years ago, and it's no surprise that this stylish British sports car still has the ability to turn heads today. Manufactured by Jaguar between 1961 and 1975, the E-type had a competitive edge second to none. First, it was priced well below other sports cars of its time, which enabled Jaguar to sell in excess of 70,000 vehicles in their 14-year reign with the E-type, and second, it was a fast car (for its day).
