This interdisciplinary volume explores the fascinating roles that color played in the society, politics, thought, art, and ritual practices of ancient and medieval East Asia (ca. 1600 B.C.E.-ca. 1400 C.E.). While the Western world has always linked color with the spectrum of light, in East Asian civilizations colors were associated with the specific plant or mineral substances from which they were derived. Many of these substances served as potent medicines and elixirs, and their transformative powers were extended to the dyes and pigments they produced. Generously illustrated, this groundbreaking publication constitutes the first inclusive study of color in East Asia. It is the outcome of years of collaboration between chemists, conservators, archaeologists, historians of art and literature, and scholars of Buddhism and Daoism from the United States, East Asia, and Europe. The Imperial Presidency and American Politics America House Book Publishers This comprehensive book on audio power amplifier design will appeal to members of the professional audio engineering community as well as the student and enthusiast. Designing Audio Power Amplifiers begins with power amplifier design basics that a novice

Canadian Edition English/Chinese is an illustrated, theme-based dictionary for second-language learners. This four-colour dictionary defines words through pictures, and presents each new word in context. The OPD English/Chinese, along with the monolingual workbooks and many other components, can be used as a reference book or as text for high school or adult ESL students at the beginner level. For years, the first monolingual Canadian edition of the OPD has been the industry leader among picture dictionaries. The second edition expands on the topics covered, providing more depth of vocabulary in the areas that matter most to students and offers Chinese speakers the additional advantage of having words and phrases defined in their native language. The illustrations have been completely updated in a more realistic style that is visually construction of fire-resistant structures. This hands-on guide clearly explains the complex building codes and standards that relate to fire design and presents hands-on techniques engineers can apply to prevent or mitigate the effects of fire in structures. Dedicated chapters discuss specific procedures for steel, concrete, and timber buildings. You will get step-by-step guidance on how to evaluate fire resistance using both testing and calculation methods. Structural Fire Engineering begins with an introduction to the behavioral aspects of fire and explains how structural materials react when exposed to elevated temperatures.

From there, the book discusses the fire design aspects of key codes and standards, such as the International Building Code, the International Fire Code, and the NFPA Fire Code. Advanced topics are covered in complete detail, including residual capacity evaluation of fire damaged structures and fire design for bridges and tunnels.

Explains the fire design requirements of the IBC, IFC, the NFPA Fire Code, and National Building Code of Canada
Presents design strategies for steel, concrete, and timber structures as well as for bridges and tunnels
Contains downloadable spreadsheets and problems along with solutions for instructors

This book of proceedings is the synthesis of all the papers, including keynotes presented during the 20th CIRP Design conference.
The book is structured with respect to several topics, in fact the main topics that serve at structuring the program.
For each of them, high quality papers are provided. The main topic of the conference was Global Product Development. This includes technical, or ganizational, informational , theoretical, environmental , performance evaluation, knowledge management, and collaborative aspects.

Special sessions were related to innovation, in particular extraction of knowledge from patents.

In a series of convergent empirical essays, Manufacturing Whiteness explores the striking parallels in the social construction of whiteness and gender in colonial depictions of the colonizer /colonized and in contemporary advertising. The past decade has seen a sincere, if belated, willingness among white male scholars to self-critically examine the oppressive social, cultural, and political implications of their whiteness. Building on Jacques Lacan's powerfully original social-psychoanalytic insights into the role of desire in the
