Gareth began the day by confidently delivering a humorous and motivating assembly which included songs and music, followed by tailor made workshops with years 3-6. ... there is no doubt that the day spurred even the most reluctant reader to delve into the weird and wonderful world of Gareth P Jones." Sian Swinnerton (Woodford Green Primary)

Gareth P. Jones

Gareth first started writing when he was very young but it wasn't until he was in his early twenties that he completed his first novel. Having had it universally rejected, he wrote a novel for children called Who Killed Charlie Twig, which received an equally unimpressed reception and remains rightly unpublished to this day.

Gareth P Jones - Authors Aloud

Gareth Phillips Jones was born 30th December, 1973 in the semi-mythical city of Birmingham. At the time the number one single in the hit parade was Merry Christmas Everybody by Slade. The first story he ever wrote was inspired by true events and was about a miscarriage of justice in which a boy called Gareth got told off for talking in class.
