This collection of innovative, thought-provoking papers discusses contemporary issues, practices and research related to the role and teaching of English in multilingual countries. The papers, written by experienced practitioners in the field from a number of different countries, examine how the English language can be more effectively taught to students in Asia who speak English as their second, third or fourth language. The book will be of interest not only to linguists, language teachers and educators but also to social science researchers involved in exploring the effects language policy can have on education and society at large. The eleven chapters in this book are divided into three sections: multilingual aspects in the teaching and learning of English, code-switching and code-mixing, and assessment. Their authors came to Karachi from different academic, cultural and geographic backgrounds and with diverse experiences of the world of English Language Teaching in order to participate in the Fifth International Seminar hosted by the Aga Khan University Centre of English Language. The contributors are all multi-linguals for whom the question of how best to teach languages is a challenge they face on a daily basis. This small collection of papers is likely to become a powerful resource for English teachers, scholars, and researchers interested in the problems facing language educators in today ' s multilingual, multi-cultural world.

The Handbook of Inclusive Education advocates the importance of inclusive education. It presents a collection of various models, practices, experiences, first-hand accounts and success stories from India, where inclusive education has been implemented. It also identifies and analyzes challenges to the Indian education system, while offering possible strategies and solutions for all education systems implementing inclusion policies. The book is divided into three parts. Part one gives an overview of the concept and practice of inclusive education and also discusses legal and policy aspects. Part two describes innovative practices in the implementation of inclusive education for children with a wide range of disabilities, such as: - Hearing Impairment - Visual Impairment - Orthopedic Impairment - Learning Disability - Cerebral Palsy - Intellectual Impairment - Autism Spectrum Disorders. Part three discusses current developments in the fields of inclusive education and describes what a 'real' inclusive school should be like.

A MAN WITHOUT AMBITION is Dr Arnold Mol ' s autobiography written with the purpose of giving his grandchildren some insight into part of their historical heritage. Even though his family and friends were surprised by the title, Dr Mol says that his life has been characterized by responding to opportunities that have come his way, rather than purposefully planning to achieve something. A MAN WITHOUT AMBITION begins with Dr Mol recounting the drama surrounding his birth in Holland shortly before the end of the Second World War. He then reflects on the past 68 blessed years of his life – about immigrating to South Africa, growing up, the love of his life, his first job, his missionary calling to South America, becoming a parent and his deep gratitude towards the Lord. A MAN WITHOUT AMBITION makes for rather entertaining reading with many anecdotes, and readers will see how blessed life can be when they trust God and put their faith in Him alone.
