Good Service Dogs are Both Born and Made! Watching a service dog and her handler working as a team in a busy public space is a thing of beauty. Not every dog has the temperament or genetic make-up to do service work, but with the proper reward-based training, many dogs can succeed in public areas. Succeeding in Public Access Work is the subject of Jennifer Cattet ' s new book, which is especially important given some of the controversies surrounding poorly or un-trained service dogs being brought into public areas. Jennifer prepares you and your dog to meet the standards of the Public Access Test developed by Assistance Dogs International. While the book focuses on training, it also covers in detail a number of other important questions including: · How much time, effort and cost are involved in acquiring and training a service dog? · Can you train a shelter dog for service work and are there breeds of dogs you should avoid? · What are your rights and the laws relating to service dogs? · How do you deal with the public when working with your service dog?

Guide Dogs of America, A History, recounts the founding, growth and operation of one of America's premier providers of guide dogs for the visually impaired. It also details the history of the guide dog movement in America, beginning with the story of "Lux," the first guide dog in America, given to blind United States Senator Thomas Schall in 1927. Guide Dogs of America was founded by Joseph W. Jones, Sr., a machinist by trade who lost his vision and, when he was turned down, at age 57, as "too old" for a guide dog, started his own guide dog school. Jones soon teamed with Captain L. A. Kreimer, a veteran of the German Army in World War I who had trained the world's first guide dog at an army field hospital in 1916, and who subsequently ran the German's extensive network of guide dog schools for soldiers blinded by the war. Together, Jones and Kreimer, with significant support from the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, the union to which Jones belonged, began training guide dogs in Los Angeles. Hollywood stars soon took note of the charitable work being done by the school - where dogs and training are provided to students free of charge, and without assistance from any level of government - and lent their fame and fortune to the operation. John Wayne, Lucille Ball, Andy Griffith, Jonathan Winters, Clark Gable, Roy Rogers, Jackie Cooper and Betty White were among the first to become involved, setting a trend that continues to this day through the involvement of a new generation of stars, including Amanda Righetti, a star of CBS Television's "The Mentalist." This book also describes the guide dog process: from breeding, puppy raising, training, selection of students, matching students with the proper dog, to post graduate services, and features a first person narrative by Guide Dogs of America graduate Lorri Bernson, who tells in moving detail of the loss of her vision, the battle to achieve independence, her hopes and dreams as a student at the school, and the fulfilling life she has been able to lead with the assistance of her guide dog. Equally important, Guide Dogs of America tells the story of the men and women who have made all of this possible, from the dedicated members of the Machinists Union who have held thousands of charitable events and donated millions of dollars, to corporations who have donated generously, and the galaxy of Hollywood stars who have given freely of their time and talents. Anyone interested in the story of how one man, faced with seemingly insurmountable challenges can not only overcome them, but can provide hope, independence and a better life to literally thousands of people around the world will enjoy this book.

The Complete Guide to Raising the Perfect Pet with Love CompanionHouse Books

This survey study examined the ratio of costs versus benefits for raising guide dog puppies, as well as whether participating in this volunteer program may be considered an altruistic act. One hundred and forty-nine male and female Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. puppy raisers (ages 12 to 69) completed the survey. The survey was constructed with nineteen statements derived from common guide dog puppy raiser testimonials: eleven statements had a positive connotation, three had a neutral connotation, and five had a negative connotation. The survey also obtained information on raiser gender, number of puppies raised, and puppies' success in the program. Participants completed the survey on the internet. Using descriptive statistics, comparison data were then analyzed for the following subgroups: first time versus repeat raisers, children ages 12-17 versus adults 18 and older, and raisers without a history of puppies graduating versus those who have had at least one puppy graduate. Altruism was considered positive for those who rated the statement "I am involved in puppy raising to help others" on a higher scale than the statement "I am involved in puppy raising to have a dog." The results indicated that the benefits outweighed the costs of puppy raising for the vast majority of raisers. This finding was consistent across subgroups. The results also showed a 79% level of altruism within the total number of participants. This study was the first known to quantitatively examine the experiences of guide dog puppy raisers.
