Much has been written on the topic of guided reading over the last twenty years, but no other leaders in literacy education have championed the topic with such depth and breadth as Irene Fountas and Gay Su Pinnell. In the highly anticipated second edition of Guided Reading, Fountas and Pinnell remind you of guided reading's critical value within a comprehensive literacy system, and the reflective, responsive teaching required to realize its full potential. Now with Guided Reading, Second Edition, (re)discover the essential elements of guided reading through: a wider and more comprehensive look at its place within a coherent literacy system a refined and deeper understanding of its complexity an examination of the steps in implementation-from observing and assessing literacy behaviors, to grouping in a thoughtful and dynamic way, to analyzing texts, to teaching the lesson the teaching for systems of strategic actions a rich text base that can support and extend student learning the re-emerging role of shared reading as a way to lead guided and independent reading forward the development of managed independent learning across the grades an in-depth exploration of responsive teaching the role of facilitative language in supporting change over time in students' processing systems the identification of high-priority shifts in learning to focus on at each text level the creation of a learning environment within which literacy and language can flourish. Through guided reading, students learn how to engage in every facet of the reading process and apply their reading power to all literacy contexts. Guided Reading Lesson Plan Harper Collins

All elementary schools in the Green Bay Area Public School District are now using the guided reading approach for reading instruction. Simply stated, guided reading involves teaching students at their instructional level. This means that in one classroom alone, a teacher may have five different reading groups in which students are all reading different books and focusing on different skills. Planning for numerous reading groups can take up the majority, if not all, of teacher's planning time. Due to the fact that planning for guided reading instruction takes so much time, teachers don't have time to meet their remaining job requirements within the allotted amount of time and are unable to collaborate effectively with their grade level peers. This advocacy project focuses on producing a resource of lesson plans that correspond to the books in Martin Elementary School's book room to minimize the amount of time teachers spend planning guided reading lessons in order to enable them to have more time to complete other job requirements during the work day. This project incorporates time for teachers to collaborate in order to produce quality lessons.
