A statement of the books aims: To return Christians to biblical norms. To get them thinking about the old paths and what was considered the whole truth. To encourage Christians to pursue Bible study by giving them helps such as an understanding of some basic NT Greek. To set forth the wonder of the Lord Jesus Christ as revealed to us as our High Priest and Saviour. Its special merits: Verse-by-verse and, often, word-by-word comments on a book of the Bible that usually receives little, if any, church, Bible study, and preaching attention. It looks closely at the Greek words used (of the eclectic [WH] variety and the TR). It examines in detail many of the fundamentals of the Christian faith and challenges doctrines and actions held by some professing Christians today. It reproduces many non-Hebrews scriptures that are quoted so that readers do not have to look them up (this is a time-saver). It has many additional questions at the end of a section to aid, stimulate, and guide the minds of Christians in their pursuit of the truth. It includes the names and dates of many historical figures from theology, hymnology, philosophy, and science. It has a set of appendices at the back on various topics. They are mainly from the Hebrews commentary so one does not have to search through the book for them.

The letter to the Hebrews is unique in the New Testament for its focus on the priesthood of Jesus and its interaction with the Old Testament. But beyond this deep theology, Hebrews is a practical book that addresses the very real challenges believers face when life gets difficult. In Hebrews Verse by Verse, the late Grant R. Osborne, with George H. Guthrie, shows readers how this beautifully crafted letter encourages believers to endure in faithfulness to Jesus. By using Scripture and theology to lay the foundation for these exhortations, the central message of Hebrews continues to be relevant for the church today. Osborne's commentary delves into the grand implications of Christ's identity and its importance for our spiritual lives.

renown commentators and pastors and translate them into words you can understand and explains what action you should take or pray about. He explains how Jesus is a better sacrifice than animals and is greater than angels and a greater High Priest; He gives warnings about disbelief or falling away. He also gives examples of great men of faith in the past, encouraging us to be like them. Chapter 11 is called "The Faith" chapter where he explains the difference between faith and works, plus concluding exhortations for the Hebrews and us to follow.

Exalting Jesus in Hebrews is part of the Christ-Centered Exposition Commentary series. Edited by David Platt, Daniel L. Akin, and Tony Merida, this new commentary series, projected to be 48 volumes, takes a Christ-centered approach to expositing each book of the Bible. Rather than a verse-by-verse approach, the authors have crafted chapters that explain and apply key passages in their assigned Bible books. Readers will learn to see Christ in all aspects of Scripture, and they will be encouraged by the devotional nature of each exposition presented as sermons and divided into chapters that conclude with a " Reflect & Discuss " section, making this series ideal for small group study, personal devotion, and even sermon preparation. It ' s not academic but rather presents an easy reading, practical and friendly commentary. The author of Exalting Jesus in Hebrews is Dr. R. Albert Mohler, Jr.

The book of Hebrews appeared during a critical time in the history of the early church. The destruction of Jerusalem was impending and many of the believers believed the end of the world was near. However, Paul warned the church against entertaining a false hope, for he knew they were misguided with their beliefs. It was a critical time—the apostles were passing away, and soon the church would be left alone. It was in this hour of perplexity that the book of Hebrews appeared with needed light and comfort. The people needed a clear conception of the work Christ was doing for them in the courts above, and this book explained the delay in His return, and restored their wavering faith. The conditions and problems which the church then had to meet are not unlike those facing the church today. While the early church was living at the time of the fulfillment of the first part of Christ ' s prophecy—the destruction of the city of Jerusalem and the temple, we are living at the time of the fulfillment of the second part of the prophecy—the coming of the Lord Jesus in the clouds of heaven. As there was misconceptions of Christ's work in the sanctuary then, so there are those now who likewise err. There is as much need today of a thorough study of the Scriptures as there was then, and more so. The book of Hebrews was a great factor in stabilizing the apostolic church in the crisis hour before the fall of Jerusalem, and it is hoped that a discussion of the mighty themes of the book of Hebrews will be of some help to the church of God today. All need to have their eyes fastened on our great High Priest and the work He is doing in the sanctuary above. And may it be the blessed privilege of many with "boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh." (Heb. 10:19, 20.) This was the prayer and hope of the author of Hebrews, and this also is the hope of the author of this volume.

It was not my intention to write another work based upon or about The Hebrews Letter. There are already many expositions and commentaries along with various other studies bases upon everything from who wrote the letter, to when it was written, to the doctrinal view expressed therein. My desire was to get right down into the heart of this letter verse by verse and word by word, to hear the very heart of this writer and to understand what the Spirit in him and by him was saying and is now saying to those who have an ear to hear and a heart to know Christ, the Living Word. We are not offering to you, the reader, another version or revision of the scripture, although we have been extremely careful to maintain the integrity of each word as to its original meaning and definition. We are offering to you what we believe to be a true verse by verse exegesis of this letter by carefully following the central theme of the letter from start to finish, which is "God hath spoken in Son" (Heb. 1:2).

Is there a difference between the Old and New Covenants? As believers, should we follow Jewish laws and customs? Why don't we sacrifice animals when God commanded it? These are valid questions many Christians ask. To gain understanding, we must look at it in light of who Jesus is and what He did. This is because Jesus changed everything! The entire Old Testament spoke of and looked forward to the time of Christ. He is the subject of the redemptive theme running throughout the entire Bible, it has always been about Him. The book of Hebrews is the story of Jesus; now that He has come, we can appreciate life in a new and wonderful way. His short time on this earth changed the course of history forever. His entrance into humanity was the pinnacle of the ages. He came to show us God in a living and breathing way; a way we had not previously understood. God's entire nature was made manifest and revealed in the person of Jesus Christ. Understanding the book of Hebrews, God's marvelous story of redemption, will change your perspective in so many ways. It will answer some of the big questions about God that Christians ask. It will reconcile the differences in the covenants and give you a clear and true picture of God and what it means to be redeemed.
