Notes on the hollow men - SlideShare

In the novella, Kurtz is described by the narrator as a hollow man, filled with loathing. The second epigraph is in reference to Guy Fawkes Day and the Gunpowder plot. Children sing the line when trying to get change for fireworks that will be lit when Guy Fawkes effigies are burnt.

The Hollow Men

The last two lines are by far (in my opinion) the most profound things I have ever read. I first read this piece in eleventh grade and have since committed it to memory. There is something in it that rings so true to me that it almost makes me choke. /"We are the hollow men. We are the stuffed men."/ Futility of Life Exposed in T.S. Eliot's The Hollow Men The 'Hollow Men', by T.S Eliot, is a reflection on the emptiness, futility and misery of modern life. It is also a reflection on the problems involved in human communication, and on the meaning (or lack of it) to life.

The Hollow Men poem begins with two epigraphs; one is from Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness, 'Mistah Kurts-he dead' and the other is 'A penny for the old Guy' which is an expression by school children to buy firecrackers to celebrate Guy Fawkes Day. On this day straw effigies are burnt. The five sections of the poem are narrated by a Hollow Man.

The Hollow Men is an episodic free verse poem. Eliot constructs a desolate world, death ’ s dream kingdom, to explore humankind ’ s evasion from spiritual intention. The focus of the poem is on the hollow
