Holt Science: Biology
The first step is to copy the side of DNA containing a gene. A copy of the DNA
segment is made of
RNA. This RNA is called messenger
RNA (mRNA).
mRNA moves out of
the nucleus of the cell and into the cytoplasm. Once in the cytoplasm is put in a protein "assembly line" which is run by a ribosome. RNA is fed

through the ribosome 3 bases at a time.
