Homemade Cleaners: 50 Cleaning Products for Bathroom, Kitchen And For Personal Use Everyone wants to keep his/her home clean and free from dust. Nowadays, it is really easy to buy a cleaner from market to clean your house. Keep it in mind that synthetic household products have lots of harmful chemicals that can react with ozone layer and create toxins called formaldehyde. According to the Environmental Protection Agency, the indoor areas of your homes contain almost 2 to 5 times more chemical pollutants than outside areas of your house. People spend almost 90 percent of their time in their home that has dense chemicals. Indoor pollutants can be the reason of flu, headaches, neurological issues and respiratory diseases. Natural cleaning products are better for your health and it will be good to use natural cleaning products to keep your environment clean. These natural cleaning products are free of toxins and cost really low. With children in your house, you have to be careful about the security of chemicals to keep this thing away from your children. Children have curious nature and they always try to open locked cabinets to find treasure. To avoid any accident with your children, you should prepare homemade cleaners. These green cleaners are safe to put around your house because these are made of natural ingredients that are safe for everyone. Non-toxic cleaners will keep the air clean and breathable. You can prepare them with a few basic ingredients that are really cheap and easily available in any grocery store. You can save money by purchasing these ingredients in bulk. Commercial home cleaners have lots of chemicals that can easily seep in your drinking water. It is almost impossible to treat this water and remove chemicals. This polluted water is harmful to natural resources and wildlife. You can avoid this problem with the use of homemade cleaning products. It will be good to replace your commercial cleaners with homemade cleaners. If you already have chemical based cleaners at your home, you should dispose of these cleaners correctly as per directions that are given on the national waste disposal websites. It is a right time to get rid of these chemicals and prepare your own cleaners. For your assistance, this book has 50 recipes to prepare your own shampoo, soap, dishwasher, detergent and cleaners. The debut cookbook from the powerhouse blogger behind theblendergirl.com, featuring 100 gluten-free, vegan recipes for smoothies, meals, and more made quickly and easily in a blender. What's your perfect blend? On her wildly popular recipe blog, Tess Masters—aka, The Blender Girl—shares easy plant-based recipes that anyone can whip up fast in a blender. Tess's lively, down-to-earth approach has attracted legions of fans looking for quick and fun ways to prepare healthy food. In The Blender Girl, Tess's much-anticipated debut cookbook, she offers 100 whole-food recipes that are gluten-free and vegan, and rely on natural flavors and sweeteners. Many are also raw and nut-, soy-, corn-, and sugar-free. Smoothies, soups, and spreads are a given in a blender cookbook, but this surprisingly versatile collection also includes appetizers, salads, and main dishes with a blended component, like Fresh Spring Rolls with Orange-Almond Sauce, Twisted Caesar Pleaser, Spicy Chickpea Burgers with Portobello Buns and Greens, and I-Love-Veggies! Bake. And even though many of Tess's smoothies and shakes taste like dessert—Apple Pie in a Glass, Raspberry-Lemon Cheesecake, or Tastes-Like-Ice-Cream Kale, anyone?—her actual desserts are out-of-this-world good, from Chocolate-Chile Banana Spilly to Flourless

Triple-Pecan Mousse Pie and Chai Rice Pudding. Best of all, every recipe can easily be adjusted to your personal taste: add an extra squeeze of this, another handful of that, or leave something out altogether—these dishes are super forgiving, so you can't mess them up. Details on the benefits of soaking, sprouting, and dehydrating; proper food combining; and eating raw, probiotic-rich, and alkaline ingredients round out this nutrient-dense guide. But you don't have to understand the science of good nutrition to run with The Blender Girl—all you need is a blender and a sense of adventure. So dust off your machine and get ready to find your perfect blend.

From the creator of the popular website Ask a Manager and New York 's work-advice columnist comes a witty, practical guide to 200 difficult professional conversations—featuring all-new advice! There 's a reason Alison Green has been called “the Dear Abby of the work world.” Ten years as a workplace-advice columnist have taught her that people avoid awkward conversations in the office because they simply don 't know what to say. Thankfully, Green does—and in this incredibly helpful book, she tackles the tough discussions you may need to have during your career. You 'll learn what to say when • coworkers push their work on you—then take credit for it • you accidentally trash-talk someone in an email then hit “reply all” • you 're being micromanaged—or not being managed at all • you catch a colleague in a lie • your boss seems unhappy with your work • your cubemate 's loud speakerphone is making you homicidal • you got drunk at the holiday party Praise for Ask a Manager “A must-read for anyone who works . . . [Alison Green 's] advice boils down to the idea that you should be professional (even when others are not) and that communicating in a straightforward manner with candor and kindness will get you far, no matter where you work.” —Booklist (starred review) “The author 's friendly, warm, no-nonsense writing is a pleasure to read, and her advice can be widely applied to relationships in all areas of readers' lives. Ideal for anyone new to the job market or new to management, or anyone hoping to improve their work experience." —Library Journal (starred review) "I am a huge fan of Alison Green's Ask a Manager column. This book is even better. It teaches us how to deal with many of the most vexing big and little problems in our workplaces—and to do so with grace, confidence, and a sense of humor." —Robert Sutton, Stanford professor and author of The No Asshole Rule and The Asshole Survival Guide "Ask a Manager is the ultimate playbook for navigating the traditional workforce in a diplomatic but firm way." —Erin Lowry, author of Broke Millennial: Stop Scraping By and Get Your Financial Life Together

The Prairie Homestead Cookbook Ballantine Books

Jill Winger, creator of the award-winning blog The Prairie Homestead, introduces her debut The Prairie Homestead Cookbook, including 100+ delicious, wholesome recipes made with fresh ingredients to bring the flavors and spirit of homestead cooking to any kitchen table. With a foreword by bestselling author Joel Salatin The Pioneer Woman Cooks meets 100 Days of Real Food, on the Wyoming prairie. While Jill produces much of her own food on her Wyoming ranch, you don't have to grow all—or even any—of your own food to cook and eat like a homesteader. Jill teaches people how to make delicious traditional American comfort food recipes with whole ingredients and shows that you don't have to use obscure items to enjoy this lifestyle. And as a busy mother of three, Jill knows how to make recipes easy and delicious for all ages. "Jill takes you on an insightful and delicious journey of becoming a homesteader. This book is packed with so much easy to follow, practical, hands-on information about steps you can take towards integrating homesteading into your life. It is packed full of exciting and mouth-watering recipes and heartwarming stories of her unique adventure into homesteading. These recipes are ones I know I will be using regularly in my kitchen." - Eve Kilcher These 109 recipes include her family's favorites, with maple-glazed pork chops, butternut Alfredo pasta, and browned butter skillet corn. Jill also shares 17 bonus recipes for homemade sauces, salt rubs, sour cream, and the like—staples that many people are surprised to learn you can make yourself. Beyond these recipes, The Prairie Homestead Cookbook shares the tools and tips Jill has learned from life on the homestead, like how to churn your own butter, feed a family on a budget, and experience all the fulfilling satisfaction of a DIY lifestyle.

Vegetables keep secrets, and to prepare them well, we need to know how to coax those secrets out. "What is the best way to eat a radish?" Alana Chernila hears this sort of question all the time.

Arugula, celeriac, kohlrabi, fennel, asparagus--whatever the vegetable may be, people always ask how to prepare it so that the produce really shines. Although there are countless ways to eat our vegetables, there are a few perfect ways to make each vegetable sing. With more than 100 versatile recipes, Eating from the Ground Up teaches you how to showcase the unique flavor and texture of each vegetable, truly bringing out the best in every root and leaf. The answers lie in smart techniques and a light touch. Here are dishes so simple and quick that they feel more intuitive than following a typical recipe; soups for year-round that are packed with nourishment; ideas for maximizing summer produce; hearty fall and winter foods that are all about comfort; impressive dishes fit for a party; and tips like knowing there's not one vegetable that doesn't perk up with a sprinkle of salt. No matter the vegetable, the central lesson is: don't mess with a good thing.

If you are ready to replace the expensive chemical-filled store bought cleaning products, then here are some great natural cleaning solutions for you. Most people did not really give much thought to what ingredients were used in cleaning products, we only were concerned if they worked or not in getting things clean. Now people are becoming more aware of how different kinds of products can put us and our environment at risk. More recent research is revealing more about the dangers and health risks surrounding many synthetic products such as those used as cleaning products. Many of us might be using the same type of cleaning products that our parents used, we were happy with the cleaning results of them, but we were unaware of their harmful effects until recently. Now more people are looking for natural products over synthetic ones, that are better for our overall health with little to no side effects. This of course cannot be said for synthetic products that almost always have side effects. Researchers are discovering that many health ailments such as cancer are being connected to our exposure to harmful chemicals, artificial foods, pesticides, environmental pollution, toxic plastics, toxic metals just to name a few. Many commercial cleaning products have been identified as being the culprits that have been effecting our health in a negative way. However, you can start now to make safer healthier choices, by preparing your own natural and safe homemade cleaning solutions.
