House cleaning has been an innate human activity forever but only since the early 19th century have mechanical devices replaced the physical labor (performed mostly by women). Mechanical carpet sweepers were replaced by manual suction cleaners, which in turn were replaced by electric vacuum cleaners in the early 20th century. Innovative inventors, who improved vacuum cleaners as electricity became commonly available, made these advances possible. Many early manufacturers failed, but some, such as Bissell, Hoover, Eureka and others, became household names as they competed for global dominance with improved features, performance and appearance. This book describes the fascinating people who made this possible, as well as the economic, cultural and technological contexts of their times. From obscure beginnings 200 years ago, vacuum cleaners have become an integral part of modern household culture.

The Wellness Mama Cookbook

Welbeck

The winners of the Nobel Prize show how economics, when done right, can help us solve the thorniest social and political problems of our day. Figuring out how to deal with today's critical economic problems is perhaps the great challenge of our time. Much greater than space travel or perhaps even the next revolutionary medical breakthrough, what is at stake is the whole idea of the good life as we have known it. Immigration and inequality, globalization and technological disruption, slowing growth and accelerating climate change--these are sources of great anxiety across the world, from New Delhi and Dakar to Paris and Washington, DC. The resources to address these challenges are there--what we lack are ideas that will help us jump the wall of disagreement and distrust that divides us. If we succeed, history will remember our era with gratitude; if we fail, the potential losses are incalculable. In this revolutionary book, renowned MIT economists Abhijit V. Banerjee and Esther Duflo take on this challenge, building on cutting-edge research in economics explained with lucidity and grace. Original, provocative, and urgent, Good Economics for Hard Times makes a persuasive case for an intelligent interventionism and a society built on compassion and respect. It is an extraordinary achievement, one that shines a light to help us appreciate and understand our precariously balanced world.

The March Out Booklet: How To Pass Your March Out 100% Guaranteed was written to provide serving armed forces personnel with a step-by-step guide to follow when doing march out cleaning in order to achieve the much-desired pass result as a predictable outcome every time. After having successfully completed and attended over a hundred march outs, Mervin Mitchel wanted to make a greater contribution to the wider military community to help alleviate the amount of stress and anxiety that armed forces personnel experience when faced with the handing over of their military quarters. Too often, military tenants find themselves in a position of complete bewilderment and uncertainty about what to do and how to do it with march outs. This booklet removes all the barriers, spills all the secrets, and tells you in detail what the housing officers look for during march out inspections to determine a pass or fail. The March Out Booklet gives you all the tools and arms you with the necessary information to go into your march out with complete confidence and the full expectation of passing every time. It is the author 's sincere desire for every armed forces personnel to pass their march out and is the sole purpose for writing this book. Nowhere else would you find recorded material on this subject that will contribute to your march out success as this book will. Mervin Mitchel has committed to donating 10 percent of the proceeds from this book to Help4Heroes, a charity that is dedicated to rehabilitate injured serving personnel and veterans, which he has quietly supported financially over a number of years. From #1 New York Times bestselling author of It Starts with Us and It Ends with Us, Colleen

Hoover 's romantic, and whose passion emotion-packed debut novel unforgettably captures all the magic and confusion of first love, as two young people forge an unlikely bond before discovering that fate has other plans for them. Following the unexpected death of her father, eighteen-year-old Layken becomes the rock for both her mother and younger brother. She appears resilient and tenacious, but inside, she's losing hope. Then she meets her new neighbor Will, a handsome twenty-one-year-old whose mere presence leaves her flustered and whose passion for poetry slams thrills her. Not long after a heart-stopping first date during which each recognizes something profound and familiar in the other, they are slammed to the core when a shocking discovery brings their new relationship to a sudden halt. Daily interactions become impossibly painful as they struggle to find a balance between the feelings that pull them together and the forces that tear them apart. Only through the poetry they share are they able to speak the truth that is in their hearts and imagine a future where love is cause for celebration, not regret.
