Every parent wants the best for their child. That ' s why they send them to college! But most parents struggle to pay for school and end up turning to student loans. That ' s why the majority of graduates walk away with $35,000 in student loan debt and no clue what that debt will really cost them.1 Student loan debt doesn ' t open doors for young adults—it closes them. They postpone getting married and starting a family. That debt even takes away their freedom to pursue their dreams. But there is a different way. Going to college without student loans is possible! In Debt-Free Degree, Anthony ONeal teaches parents how to get their child through school without debt, even if they haven ' t saved for it. He also shows parents: *How to prepare their child for college *Which classes to take in high school *How and when to take the ACT and SAT *The right way to do college visits *How to choose a major A college education is supposed to prepare a graduate for their future, not rob them of their paycheck and freedom for decades. Debt-Free

Degree shows parents how to pay cash for college and set their child up to succeed for life.

The Scholarship Blueprint Arco Pub "Caution! Watch Out for Scholarships Ahead" is a very practical and helpful guide for students who wish to navigate the complex scholarship application process. The book offers intelligent and sound advice from a unique and refreshing perspective." ---Robert M. Kinnally Dean of Admission and Financial Aid Stanford University As college costs skyrocket, more and more students are turning towards increasingly competitive scholarships to help finance their education. Each year, $1.25 billion in private scholarships are awarded to 750,000 students. Although lists of scholarship sources are available from many books and websites, students are often ill-prepared for the scholarship application process (e.g., realizing too late what scholarship or admissions committees look for in a candidate, or applying last minute). Caution: Watch for Scholarships Ahead answers the needs of students (and their parents) nationwide seeking to share in the billion-dollar scholarship bonanza. This book intimately reveals the secrets to the Chiu brothers' nationwide scholarship successes, totaling nearly $90,000! Ian, Edison, and Eugene Chiu together have had first-hand experience with the scholarship application process for nearly ten years. Their approach to the scholarship process has produced a stellar track record that attests to its efficacy. Their achievements include the USA Today All-Academic First Team, the J.C. Penney "Who's Arizona?" National Scholarship, the Hakeem Olajuwon Dream Foundation Scholarship, the Discover Card State Gold Award, Tylenol Leadership Scholarship, Tandy Technology Scholar, and many others. They have been featured in USA Today, J.C. Penney Sunday circulars, TIME magazine, Fortune 500 magazine, and the Houston Chronicle. Their proven approach to success has also enabled them to attend the top universities in the country Harvard University and Stanford University. Caution: Watch for Scholarships Ahead provides a detailed road map on how to successfully approach the scholarship process. It prepares students to not only become better applicants through improved essays, resumes, and interviews but also better students by inspiring leadership, extracurricular involvement, academic excellence. Through reading this work, high school students will become better prepared for any application process scholarship, college, or job. Equipped with the necessary information, students will be able to increase their chances of securing scholarship funds. We also hope that more students will seek and obtain scholarships that would provide them the financial means to attend higher education institutions. The book is unique from most other scholarship books in that it does not provide a listing or directory of scholarship sources; rather, it contains simple, easy to understand steps on how to prepare oneself, how to locate scholarship opportunities, and how to apply for scholarships. It includes several features which enhance its pedagogical value. It is written in a well-organized manner that makes full use of headers and subtitles to guide the student. Throughout the book, important points are clearly marked with a light bulb and warning items are marked with a stop sign. At the end of every chapter, key points described and supported previously are listed in a summary format. Within the chapters, examples are provided which can serve as templates for students as they apply to scholarships. We also envision Microsoft Word templates on a diskette that could be included with the book. We believe this book has significant potential on a nationwide basis. Four hundred copies have already been sold to students at Bellaire Senior High School in the Houston Independent School District (HISD), and HISD has also ordered a copy for each of its guidance counselors. The distinctive group of forty colleges profiled here is a well-kept secret in a status industry. They outdo the Ivies and research universities in producing winners. And they work their magic on the B and C students as well as on the A students. Loren Pope, director of the College Placement Bureau, provides essential information on schools that he has chosen for their proven ability to develop potential, values, initiative, and risk-taking in a wide range of students. Inside you'll find evaluations of each school's program and personality to help you decide if it's a community that's right for you; interviews with students that offer an insider's perspective on each college; professors' and deans' viewpoints on their school, their students, and their mission; and information on what happens to the graduates and what they think of their college experience. Loren Pope encourages you to be a hard-nosed consumer when visiting a college, advises how to evaluate a school in terms of your own needs and strengths, and shows how the college experience can enrich the rest of your life.
