Football Coloring Book For Kids Aged 5-11 Wentworth Press

This volume responds to a renewed focus on tragedy in theatre and literary studies to explore conceptions of tragedy in the dramatic work of seventeen canonical American playwrights. For students of American literature and theatre studies, the assembled essays offer a clear framework for exploring the work of many of the most studied and performed playwrights of the modern era.

Following a contextual introduction that offers a survey of conceptions of tragedy, scholars examine the dramatic work of major playwrights in chronological succession, beginning with Eugene O'Neill and ending with Suzan-Lori Parks. A final chapter provides a study of American drama since 1990 and its ongoing engagement with concepts of tragedy. The chapters explore whether there is a distinctively American vision of tragedy developed in the major works of canonical American dramatists and how this may be seen to evolve over the course of the twentieth century through to the present day. Among the playwrights whose work is examined are: Susan Glaspell, Langston Hughes, Tennessee Williams, Arthur Miller, Edward Albee, Lorraine Hansberry, Amiri Baraka, August Wilson, Marsha Norman and Tony Kushner. With each chapter being short enough to be assigned for weekly classes in survey courses, the volume will help to facilitate critical engagement with the dramatic work and offer readers the tools to further their independent study of this enduring theme of dramatic literature.

Stories help us to see how a product or service can fit into our lives. Stories are a way to get past the pure facts and figures, and show how a product can benefit us, how it can solve our problems and how it can make a difference to us. Stories can motivate us and inspire us in a way that facts and figures can't. Stories allow us to connect with people's hearts. Annette and Trish will help you to go from invisible to shining brightly. If you have a message, a passion or a story locked inside; if you are waiting for someone to find you but you are not sure how to get that story out or what tools to use; let Annette and Trish show you the way. Includes expert tips from journalists Elizabeth Campbell and Tracy Walsh, podcaster Ronsley S Vaz, social media princess Julie Mason and networking strategist Robyn Henderson.
