Contractor-operated base stores, once envisioned as a practical and cost-effective means for obtaining vehicle repair parts and civil engineering supplies, are now plagued by pricing irregularities, contract abuses, and repeated allegations of fraud. GAO reviewed such contractor-operated stores to determine how well these contracts are controlled and whether they are subject to fraud and abuse. The review concentrated on evaluating Air Force contracting and management procedures developed to implement the contractor-operated store, reviewing audit reports and closed criminal investigation reports from the Air Force, and reviewing 10 out of 120 Air Force store contracts in operation. Despite past concentrated efforts, the Air Force has been unable to develop a workable store contract for purchasing the thousands of low-cost, commercial items that its bases need daily. Further, the services continue to award complex, fixed-price store contracts containing many pricing uncertainties. The burden of administering these contracts has often been slighted in favor of relying on a contractor to price and deliver goods according to the contract, resulting in some contractors taking advantage of the uncertain contracts and disorganized management. Air Force bases have paid more for automobile parts than the lowest price specified in the contract and have purchased new parts when more economical, rebuilt parts should have been stocked. They have also contracted to pay excessive fixed prices for civil engineering supplies. These unsound buying practices and abuses were traceable to defects in the contracts and breakdowns in internal controls. Since 1977, the Air Force has made 41 criminal investigations of alleged store irregularities. These cases have primarily involved the misrepresentation of goods in order to increase prices and have usually involved a relatively small dollar amount. GAO believes that the contractor-operated store, as implemented, unnecessarily exposes the Government to potential purchasing fraud and abuse because it depends too heavily on the contractor to make the buying decisions. GAO also believes that some aspects of the store contracts are uncontrollable and will continue to result in the Government paying higher prices than is necessary.

There is no longer such a thing as an American economy, say Robert Reich at the beginning of this brilliant book. What does it mean to be a nation when money, goods, and services know no borders? What skills will be the most valuable in the coming century? And how can our country best ensure that all its citizens have a share in the new global economy? Robert B. Reich, the widely respected and bestselling author of The Next American Frontier and The Resurgent Liberal, defines the real challenge facing the United States in the 21st century in this trail-blazing book. Original, readable, and vastly informed, The Work of Nations is certain to set a standard for the next generation of policy-makers.

This book, first published in 1987, is about the classic free will problem, construed in terms of the implications of moral responsibility. The principal thesis is that the core issue is metaphysical: can scientific laws postulate objectively necessary connections between an action and its causal antecedents? The author concludes they cannot, and that, therefore, free will and determinism can be reconciled.

There are many testimonies of deliverances, healings and miracles. This true-life account is unlike any testimony you will ever read. In his first deliverance, John Norte didn't even know God, but he was rescued from death in a car accident by Jesus Christ. And he experienced a heavenly vision. In his second deliverance, John was running away from his calling and had fallen in a pit of addiction. Yet, Jesus Christ came to rescue John from a legion. In his third deliverance, John was now baptized but stumbled in his walk. Satan came to sift him as wheat. But Jesus Christ rescued him again from Satan and his legions. Three times a thing is established. Whoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be delivered (Joel 2:32). Read about this incredible testimony from bondage in sin to freedom in Christ Jesus. This testimony speaks of God's incredible saving grace and will encourage those who have no hope and are struggling with addiction or depression issues. No sin is greater than the precious blood of Jesus Christ our savior! An incredible testimony from John Norte about God's divine deliverance! A truly inspired account of God's unending grace and mercy! May our Heavenly Father bless the reader of this testimony, for Isaiah boldly says, aEURoeLord who has believed our report and to whom has the arm of Yahweh been revealed?aEUR All praise, honor and glory belong to the God of our Fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob!
