I Think, Therefore I Am ... So What Are You Thinking?

Cogito, ergo sum is a philosophical statement that was made in Latin by René Descartes, usually translated into English as "I think, therefore I am". The phrase originally appeared in French as je pense, donc je suis in his Discourse on the Method, so as to reach a wider audience than Latin would have allowed. It appeared in Latin in his later Principles of Philosophy. As Descartes explained it, "we cannot doubt of our existence while we doubt." A fuller version, articulated by Antoine ...

These minds, however, are not quite what we generally assume them to be. The unified, central-controller self is a "user-illusion." We tend to think, as Descartes did, that we have privileged access to our own consciousness—"I think, therefore I am"—but in fact our self-awareness is limited, biased and partial.
